Sentence Of Al Capone Is Delayed Until Saturday

GANG LEADER ASKS ARREST OF SENTENCE

Federal Judge Orders Continuance After Hearing Defense Argument

NEW TRIAL NOT ASKED

Gangster's Attorney Says Indictment is Insufficient and Also Faulty

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Sentence of Al Capone, convicted on charges of defrauding the government of $215,000 in income tax, was delayed until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, ordered the continuance shortly before noon at the close of extensive arguments on a defense motion for an arrest of judgment. Judge Wilkerson gave no indication of what moves he would make when the hearing is resumed tomorrow.

Capone shrugged his shoulders as the ruling was made, got up and walked out. At his side was Michael Ahern, defense attorney.

The gangster brushed aside reporters who tried to question him. He appeared white of face and ill. The scars on his cheek stood out against the pallor of his skin.

Jacob Grossman, Assistant United States District Attorney, and Albert Fink and Ahern, attorneys for the gangster, consumed the entire morning session with arguments.

Grossman contended the verdict, reached by a jury last Saturday night after eight and one half hours of deliberation and finding Capone guilty of three felony counts of income tax evasion and two misdemeanor charges, was "consistent with the indictments."

Fink and Ahern went over, phrase by phrase, the long indictment on which their client was convicted, contending that it was "insufficiently drawn and not specific" in not stating exactly how the income tax was evaded.

Fink, hoarse from a cold, argued that the language of the indictments had been insufficient.

He contended that the government had "piled charge upon

WAGE REDUCTION IS FACED BY WORKMEN

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 23.—(UP)—Wage reduction for railroad workers was in the background today as a committee of the Association of Railway executives studied modifications of the interstate commerce commission's recently announced pooling plan to aid weak railroad lines.

The plan is not acceptable to the rail heads who are discussing it at their quarterly meeting. Some oppose it on the grounds it is "socialistic," illegal and is not practical.

Rather than definitely reject it, the association appointed a committee which was to begin immediate consideration of the plan, and to meet with the interstate commerce commission.

CHAS. M. SCHWAB OUTLINES PATH TO PROSPERITY

Tells Steel Institute Vigorous Offensive Necessary by Industry

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(UP)—A vigorous offensive by industrial America is necessary to smash the economic depression, Charles M. Schwab, veteran chairman of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, told the American Iron and Steel Institute today.

A three-fold program was outlined by Schwab which included:

- 1—A better financial structure which now is underlying.
- 2—Elimination of business and government extravagance.
- 3—A vigorous enterprising attitude on the part of industry.

He praised the Hoover plan to relieve banks with liquid assets; declared any trend toward isolation; opposed the dole; declared against war and said the steel industry would cooperate in a naval holiday; urged stabilization of prices at fair levels for industry; urged less governmental supervision of business and found liquidation of securities beyond all reason.

In his peculiarly optimistic manner, Schwab expressed belief in the continued growth of the United States and his faith in the steel industry.

He alluded, jovially, to his predictions made a year ago before the institute. "I said at our last meeting that the tide was coming in—it certainly was but it proved to be a tidal wave," he explained. Failure of his predictions at that time to materialize as a result of the chaos in Europe. In this connection, he said:

"The lesson is that we cannot longer ignore the economy of other countries. In other depressions we could forget about the hard times in other countries. Then we were a debtor nation, and largely self-sufficient.

"Today we are a creditor nation and the prosperity of our international neighbors is necessary to our own well-being. We must declare a permanent moratorium on national finances."

In reviewing the collapse in Europe, Schwab found "the culminating blow to the finances of these countries has been the paternalistic measures, such as the dole, which

FITTS URGES JURY PROBE OF OFFICE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—(UP)—An investigation of the Los Angeles state attorney general loomed today on the heels of an announcement by District Attorney Burton Fitts that rumors "broadly circulated" had questioned the integrity of his office.

Fitts appeared before the county grand jury to demand the investigation following his return from Chicago. He said that his action in dismissing a morals charge against John P. Mills, wealthy San Diego real estate man, had brought rumors reflecting upon himself.

Foreman C. S. Hutson, after hearing Fitts address a letter to Attorney General U. S. Webb asking him to take charge of the investigation and then took steps to employ independent investigators.

NARCOTIC ANGLE IN OAKLAND'S SCANDAL

OAKLAND, Oct. 23.—(UP)—An inquiry into alleged police participation in liquor graft spread today to include evidence of narcotic, vice and racketeering operations.

District Attorney Earl Warren, who charged that $3,000,000 in protection had been paid by bootleggers over a period of five years, said the probe will continue until he has evidence to warrant going before the grand jury.

Although a "tip off" sent under world figures scurrying to cover and prevented the capture of all those under surveillance, Warren said he had information which may bring scores of indictments. More than 150 policemen are under fire.

Wife Objects To Goat Riding In Family Car

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—(UP)—The call of the open road proved so strong for Howard Lightner, steel worker, that he packed his wife, year-old baby and a nanny goat into the family coupe and started out to "see America first."

As a result, Mrs. Cleo Lightner went to court and obtained a decree of divorce on grounds of cruelty.

"He got a goat to provide milk for the baby," Mrs. Lightner testified. "When our money ran out, all of us, the baby and goat included, would sleep in haystacks. The life seemed to appeal to my husband and the goat, but not to me."

ACCEPTANCE OF NEW DIRIGIBLE IS CONDEMNED

New York Sun Editorially Declares Airship Not Up to Contract

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Acceptance of the new United States navy dirigible "Akron" is denounced editorially by the New York Sun which characterizes it as "another chapter on the folly of the government's investments in dirigibles as instruments of war."

The newspaper points out that all but $200,000 of the price of the "Akron," $5,375,000, was paid before the airship was ever accepted after which it was learned that the vessel is from 20,000 to 22,000 pounds overweight. The Sun calls this "a remarkable error in an airship designed to carry a total military load of only 16,000 pounds."

"Having accepted the dirigible, the navy department seems inclined to go the whole way and generously waive the penalty for failure to comply with specifications. It is still more astonishing to read that after all this the secretary of the navy who recently felt compelled to make cuts in his budget has given orders to go ahead with the construction."

In reviewing the collapse in Europe, Schwab found "the culminating blow to the finances of these countries has been the paternalistic measures, such as the dole, which

SKULL FRACTURED IN DEFENDING DOG

FRESNO, Oct. 23.—(UP)—The condition of William G. Estes, 51, householder who defended his dog from attack only to suffer a fractured skull and other injuries yesterday, was reported improved but still critical today.

Manuel Sylvia, 19, and Jimmy Gentry, 22, were arrested and Sylvia was held in jail on a vagrancy charge pending the outcome of Estes' trial.

Police said a fight resulted after Estes remonstrated with the two youths for throwing a brick at his dog after the dog had charged the fence past which the young men were walking.

During the fight Estes was knocked down, his head striking the pavement and fracturing his skull.

SALVAGING OF GOLD BULLION PROCEEDS

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Oct. 23.—(UP)—With calm weather salvaging of the $185,000 gold bullion and other cargo of the wrecked S. S. Colombia at Point Tosca, Baja California, is proceeding rapidly. It was learned here today.

Salvage masters reported that permanent moorings have been anchored to prevent the hull from slipping off the submerged rocks into deep water. In addition to recovering the gold, divers are expected to search passenger cabins for valuable jewelry.

The Colombia hit the rocks in the early morning of September 13 with 114 passengers aboard.

WINNIE JUDD STILL ELUDES STATE POLICE

Disregards Husband's Plea to Return Who Employs L. A. Attorneys

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Although numerous witnesses, including her own brother, said that Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, 27, attempted to claim the luggage containing the bodies, Mrs. Judd was not mentioned today in the open verdict returned by a coroner's jury that considered the deaths of two of her former friends.

The jury found that the victims, Mrs. Agnes LeRoi, 27, and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, 25, "came to their deaths on October 16 from gunshot wounds fired by a person or persons unknown."

REPORT RIOTS ON ISLAND OF CYPRUS

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(UP)—British troops were reported rushed from Egypt by air today to Cyprus, island possession in the Mediterranean, where natives demanding a union with Greece rioted and burned the government house.

The troops, numbering about 200, were expected to reach Nicosia, capital of Cyprus, this morning. Meanwhile other forces in Egypt entrained for Port Said to proceed to Cyprus by boat.

Advices said mobs had besieged and closed all able stations on the island except at Larnaca, third largest city of Cyprus.

About one-fifth the population of the island, which formerly belonged to Turkey, are Moslems. In 1930 many of the islanders petitioned the British government to allow Cyprus to be united with Greece, or to be granted responsible constitutional government.

STARVING CHINESE ALIENS ARE RESCUED

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 23.—(UP)—Ten starving Chinese aliens were rescued today from an uninhabited island 35 miles south of Everglades where they had been abandoned by smugglers.

They were hungry, thirsty and badly bitten by swarms of mosquitoes.

One of the 10, speaking broken English, told how they had been landed on the island off a boat from Cuba Tuesday night. They were told they would be met there by an automobile headed north.

They had no food or fresh water, he said.

IOWA TROOPS MOVE TO FARMER'S LAND

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 23.—(UP)—A detachment of national guard cavalry, under command of Brig. Gen. Park A. Findley, moved today from the fair grounds camp here today for the farm of Jake Eversman, presumably to begin testing the cattle of the farmer leader.

With the cavalry were six state veterinarians, whom the guardsmen protected from possible violence. Heavy rains this morning held up the movement of the troops for two hours.

Says 'Cruises To Nowhere' Is Violation

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—"Cruises to nowhere" by ships under foreign flags are a violation of United States coastwise shipping laws and the eighteenth amendment, Captain John F. Milliken, secretary of the Neptune association, charges in a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Specifically criticizing the Columbus day cruise of the Red Star liner Belgeland, he suggested that vessel should be seized for violating the prohibition laws. "We believe that this trip was made in a direct effort to break down the laws of this country," he said, in behalf of the Neptune association.

JAPANESE BOY IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two Machines Collide Near Smeltzer—Beach Youth Also Badly Hurt

A 14-YEAR-OLD Japanese youth was fatally injured and three other persons were injured in an automobile crash at 6:30 o'clock last night at the intersection of the Huntington Beach and Smeltzer roads, and a Huntington Beach youth was probably fatally injured when his motorcycle crashed into a telephone pole, at Huntington Beach yesterday afternoon.

T. Nagamatsu, 14, resident of Smeltzer, died at the Santa Ana Valley hospital shortly after midnight this morning from a fractured skull received when the car he was driving collided with a machine operated by H. C. Roher, of 4311 East First street, Long Beach, according to a sheriff's office report.

Roher was badly hurt, suffering a broken wrist and possible internal injuries. He is a patient in the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

M. Nagamatsu, father of the dead boy, was severely injured as was M. Sadakane, 14, who was riding with young Nagamatsu at the time. They were taken to the St. Joseph's hospital.

Police authorities have been unable to locate the car.

NEW YORK OFFICER KILLS RODEO ACTOR

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(UP)—A western rodeo performer was shot and killed by a policeman early today during an argument that started over a taxicab fare.

Owen Crosby, 25, of Carlsbad, N. M., was the victim.

After the performance at Madison Square Garden last night he drove in a cab from Times Square to 43rd street, a few blocks, and objected to the fare, John Quigley, policeman, intervened.

Crosby, according to Quigley, then attracted attention of other performers, and swung a cane. A tussle followed. Crosby's friends joined him.

Quigley said his own arms were pinned behind him momentarily, that he was struck repeatedly, and then drew his pistol and fired. The cowboy staggered several feet and fell dead.

RAILROADS MOVE TO STABILIZE CREDIT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(UP)—The railroads have moved promptly in considering the interstate commerce commission's plan for stabilizing railroad credit, but many details today remained to be worked out before increased freight rates could be effected.

While agreeing to co-operate with the commission, the Association of Railway Executives meeting in Atlantic City, has not endorsed the proposals. Much opposition remains to be overcome before the carriers can present a unified front in seeking benefits from rate increases which the commission authorized conditionally.

The association appointed a committee which will confer with the commission. Modifications of the commission's plan will be sought. The committee will report back to the association. The final fight over rejection or adoption of the plan will come at the time.

Will Spend Tonight At White House

No Binding Agreement to Result From Talks of National Leaders

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Premier Laval will reach the climax of his visit to America today when he goes to the White House to stay overnight and to have his only protracted discussion with President Hoover.

These two men who direct the destinies of France and the United States will sit down in the Lincoln Study to consider what the two powerful nations they represent may do toward speeding economic recovery and fostering disarmament and European peace.

Laval looked forward to the conference confident that "something profitable" would result and certain that "President Hoover and I can get together." Mr. Hoover has said he will gladly hear what his visitor has to suggest and will consider it with open mind.

Laval will have opportunity for a long talk with Stimson tomorrow when he spends the night at Woodley.

Both Laval and the president insist they expect no binding agreement to result from their talks but it is believed they will strive to decide on some general principles controlling treatment of war debts, reparations and disarmament to be worked out in detail later. Mr. Hoover speaks no French and Laval speaks no English. Consequently their discussion will be slowed down by an interpreter.

They meet strongly conscious that they can go only so far. Mr. Hoover must reckon with congress, and particularly the senate. Laval is obliged to guard against his position at home. This is regarded here as accounting for the emphasis on security in his greeting to America at New York on his arrival.

Though security is the paramount desire of France, it has been intimated unmistakably that the administration is opposed to entering any pact which would bind the United States in advance to take action in event of trouble, either with arms or by an embargo.

Some French correspondents in the party appeared disappointed that Laval was not greeted by larger and more demonstrative crowds on his arrival here. The governor staged full dress military honors for him but he arrived before the government departments closed which accounted in part for the absence of large crowds. Neither Laval or his daughter indicated anything but pleasure at the reception accorded them.

Laval's first impressions are a jumbled mass of harbor craft, skyscrapers, silk hats, soldiers, bayonets, the Marcellines, gold-braid, police motorcycle sirens and a spinning bout with the American Press here which he seemed to enjoy as much as the reporters.

COL. LINDBERGH HOPS OFF FROM ROCK SPRINGS

Leaves Early Today From Wyoming Town on Trip to New Jersey

BULLETIN

MOLINE, Ill., Oct. 23.—(UP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at the Moline airport this afternoon and took off again for the east at 1:40 p. m., C.S.T.

They remained about 30 minutes, taking on a fresh supply of gasoline and oil.

Lindbergh refused to divulge his next landing place.

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Oct. 23.—(UP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, forced down here last night by rain and darkness, took off at 6:10 a. m. today on their flight across the continent to their New Jersey home.

The flying pair, who cut a vacation in the far east short at the death of Dwight Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's father, appeared much more cheerful and rested as they took off than they had been on their arrival here last night.

The flying pair were 500 miles behind their schedule. Headwinds and storms in Idaho had caused the delay.

Their arrival was unexpected, only airport attaches and a few visitors were at the field when Lindbergh landed the ship, at 5:50 p. m.

The Lindberghs spent an hour at the home of E. S. Maroney, manager of the airport. Mrs. Lindbergh spent most of that hour playing with Maroney's six months old daughter, Patricia. Mrs. Lindbergh's own son is at the home of his grandmother in New Jersey.

Both Mrs. Lindbergh and her husband appeared somewhat weary after their long trip across the Pacific and the rough flight yesterday. They are "tired of the crowds," they said, and yearned for open spaces and the small towns.

When they arrive home, they will have completed a trip that took them some 12,000 miles, most of it by plane over the most hazardous airways of the world.

RACE HORSE OWNER DIES IN AUTOMOBILE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—(UP)—A sudden heart attack while at the wheel of an automobile was blamed today for the death of Stuart Polk, 65, prominent San Diego race horse owner and trainer, in a crash here last night.

Coroner's physicians expressed the belief that the wealthy San Diegoan lost consciousness, allowing the automobile to plunge into a brick wall.

Polk recently brought a string of 15 horses from Agua Caliente to the Tanforan track at San Bruno, where a meeting will start soon. He was returning from the track to his hotel here when the fatal accident took place.

CONGRESSMAN DIES IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Death of Representative Fletcher Hale, New Hampshire, last night in New York has given the democratic party a majority in congress.

The division of the house now stands: Democrats 214, republicans 213, farmer labor 1; vacancies 7.

Hale, fourth-term republican representative died in Brooklyn naval hospital of pneumonia, and cerebral complications. He was 48 years old.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 23. [To the Editor of The Register:] Scene in box stall in Rogers home: Secretary of War Hurley eating Rogers "fodder." "Mr. Hurley, this is not for publication, but should the Philippines have their freedom?" "Will, this is a good administration, you see if it ain't." "Now, Pat, you was in both China and Japan. Just what is their troubles?" "I'll tell you, Will, Hoover is a very, warm, sympathetic man when you know him." "Mr. Secretary, will that Russian plan work?" "Listen, Will, they haven't got a soul they can run against us." So I just fed him and slept him for nothing. The next Cabinet officer pays his board.

Yours,

Japan Stipulates China to Accept All Treaties and Cease Propaganda

VICTORY FOR BARON

Agreement Represents Big Concession on Part of Japanese, Reports Say

BULLETIN

GENEVA, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Alfred Sze, of China, accepted the league council's formula for settlement of the Manchurian dispute tonight, as embodied in a resolution proposed to the council. Kenkichi Toshiyama, Japanese delegate, had not yet accepted, although his government was understood to be willing to agree to it conditionally.

TOKIO, Oct. 23.—(UP)—The Japanese government today instructed its representative at Geneva to accept conditionally the League of Nations proposal to start immediate withdrawal of troops inside the treaty zone in Manchuria.

The government hoped to complete the evacuation in three weeks if possible. The orders to Geneva were sent after a cabinet meeting. Japan's stipulated conditions included Chinese acceptance of all treaties and commitments and cessation of alleged anti-Japanese propaganda in China.

The new position represented considerable concession by Japan but included the main provisions of the five points outlined by foreign minister Baron Shidehara.

The league council proposed to adjourn today for three weeks and expected Japan to complete evacuation within that time.

Japan's agreement, representing a considerable concession on her part in order to establish a basis for a settlement in Manchuria, was regarded as a victory for foreign minister Baron Shidehara. The minister has been in constant opposition to the "dilemma" military element, which has favored aggression.

Considerable feeling against Great Britain was evidenced in government circles because of Lord Reading's stand at the league council. The sentiment was intensified by reports of a conversation in Peking between Minister Shigemitsu of Japan and Sir Miles.

RENO CONTRACTOR SHOOT DOWN PAIR

RENO, Oct. 23.—(UP)—William Conrad, Reno contractor, today shot and killed his wife, Joyce, and Fern Morley, a man with whom she allegedly had been friendly, according to police, who said Conrad admitted the murder.

The shooting took place at the Conrad home.

Neighbors heard two shots and called police.

As the officers entered the house, Conrad was alleged to have said:

"I'm the man you want. He was paying too much attention to my wife."

The shooting climaxed more than a week of disagreement in the Conrad home. Police learned a week ago Mrs. Conrad had her husband arrested on a charge of being drunk and disturbing the peace.

charge until it had hoisted itself upon its own petard."

"This proves," he said, "that there has been a providential hand in the matter."

Judge Wilkerson interrupted to ask, "Do you think there is something providential about this verdict?"

"Yes," was the reply. "The jury found the defendant guilty on counts that will not stand up. If this indictment was not drawn properly, and we contend it was not, it is just too bad."

Defense Attorney Ahern said that for all to the contrary in the evidence, Capone may have filed an income tax return and may have followed attempt to evade payment of tax with payment.

In closing his argument, Ahern said the verdict illustrated the fact that the indictment was so vague that the defendant could be tried again on the same charges.

As Ahern concluded, Grossman began an argument tending to disprove the defense allegations. He finished his discussion and Judge Wilkerson tucked his notes in his pocket, announced the adjournment and rose from the bench.

Attorney Ahern explained after the hearing that the defense did not plan a motion for a new trial.

"When we decided to argue for arrest of motion, we waived right to plead for a new trial," he said.

Thompson Faces Jury Nov. 16 On Burglary Charge

Fred Lem Thompson, charged with burglary of the H. E. Ludlum Carpet works at 1622 South Main street July 19, pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned today before Superior Judge James L. Allen on an information filed by Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman.

CLUBWOMEN OF ORANGE COUNTY HEAR LEADERS

Clubwomen of Orange county gathered in Anaheim today for the one-day convention of the Orange County Federation of Women's Clubs with Mrs. Earl E. Smith, president, serving as chairman. The parley was opened at the Elbell clubhouse with the Rev. R. W. Lee giving the invocation and Mrs. Walter Ross leading in community singing.

Following the salute to the flag, led by Mrs. H. P. Knopf, greetings to visiting clubwomen was extended by Hostess President Mrs. Robert Hamilton with Mrs. F. W. Stanley responding.

Following the report of the various department chairmen and appointment of committees for the day, state and district officers were introduced.

Standards of Life
Mrs. Agnes McEuen, state vice-president at large, delivered the first address speaking on "The New Age and New Generation" in which she asked the mothers "Do we set the same standards by which we were raised and do we find it hard to stand by the ethical standards in which we believe?"

She said that the greatest difference between this and an earlier age lies in religion and that while the new religion may not touch the ideals of the older generation, the older generation should adapt itself and temper the new religion for the younger generation.

She also declared that the club women should use their organization as a lever to reach the community for leading children into the paths of useful citizenship.

Spirit of the Home

Mrs. Albert Launer, district president, spoke on "The Spirit of the Home" in which she divided the modern home into three parts: confusion, conflict and compensation. In her talk Mrs. Launer said that common ideals should be the ties that bind the home together and that the gauge of a mother's ability is not the number of hours she serves but her ability to meet the crisis in her children's lives when they arise.

struction of the sister ship to the Akron."

"The government had no alternative but to accept the airship from the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation," the paper said. "Under the terms of the contract itself the navy was required to pay for the airship in equal installments during the course of construction so that before any of the test flights were made the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation received all but the final payment of $200,000, out of a total cost of $5,375,000."

In addition to the overweight of the dirigible the Sun points out that the vessel did not meet the specified speed requirements of 72 knots.

DEATH DRIVER ON PROBATION FOR 10 YEARS

Hilbert Craig, 20, of Anaheim, was given probation for 10 years and his driver's license was suspended for that time when he appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen today following his recent conviction on a manslaughter charge based on an automobile accident near Anaheim last May which resulted in the death of Anna Korn.

In making his ruling the court pointed out that no good purpose would be served by sending Craig to San Quentin. He declared that one life already has been taken and that there would be no value in ruining another.

Craig must report again to the court on June 10, when Judge Allen again will take cognizance of the probationary order. In the meantime the principal of the school attended by Craig will be instructed to make monthly reports on Craig's conduct.

Leonard Evans, Anaheim attorney who defended Craig, told the court that his client desired to continue his schooling and become a useful member of society, urging that he be not confined.

Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman told the court he believed that whatever punishment was given should not interfere with Craig's schooling and that the parents of the late Miss Korn did not wish to see anything interfere with his education.

a clever woman and, as I've said before, she doesn't have any nerves."

Authorities here and in Phoenix announced that they were now looking for two people instead of one.

"We want Ruth Judd and a man," said County Attorney Lloyd Andrews of Phoenix. First we must find the man, but we may find them together," he added.

Authorities agreed however in charging that Mrs. Judd shot the girls to death in Phoenix, packed their bodies in the trunks and a suitcase and came with them here without the aid of an accomplice.

On the other hand, it has been fairly well established that a man accompanied Mrs. Judd to the union station in Phoenix when she checked the trunks through to Los Angeles and bought a round trip ticket.

Once here, her brother has admitted, she sought him out to help her "dump the trunks in the ocean."

They were prevented from doing this by a baggage-master who refused to turn over the trunks until they were opened that he might investigate the source of blood that was trickling from one.

Dr. Judd's plea to his wife came through Attorney Richard Cantillon, who defended William Edward Hickman when that youth was tried and convicted three years ago on charges of murdering Marlon Parker.

Local authorities still believed that Mrs. Judd must be in or near Los Angeles.

"I feel certain we will get her soon," Detective Inspector David Davidson said. "She was without money, she was in a bad physical condition because of tuberculosis and she was without the supply of the mild drug she used to induce sleep. Under these conditions, I feel she could not have gone far. We will get her soon."

PLAN PROBE INTO DEATH OF YOUTH

Inquest into the death of Wallace Charles Link, 20, Anaheim youth, who died yesterday in the Orange county hospital of injuries received September 20, in an automobile crash will be held at the Hilgeland funeral parlors, Anaheim at 10 a. m. tomorrow, it was announced today by Coroner Charles Brown.

Link suffered a broken arm in the accident. Lockjaw developed which led to the youth's death. No official report of the accident was made to authorities at the time, but it was understood that the car in which Link was riding ran off the road and overturned in a ditch, near Anaheim.

Harlow Held On Possession Count

H. M. Harlow, San Juan Capistrano man, was re-arrested last night by Sheriff Logan Jackson and lodged in the county jail on charges of possession of liquor and prior convictions.

Four counts against the man, charging sale of liquor, were dismissed for the purpose of filing the new complaint, it was declared.

Harlow was one of the men arrested in August in the county-wide sheriff's office raid.

INJURED FOOTBALL PLAYER IMPROVED

Improvement was noted in the condition of Leland Mixon, San Juan Capistrano high school football player, injured in a game at San Juan October 16. The youth is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Mixon suffered an internal hemorrhage as the result of a severe kick during the game. His condition was serious for several days.

ACCIDENT VICTIM BATTLES FOR LIFE

Battling against great odds, too big to overcome, according to attending physicians, Clark Shelton, 42, Torrance man, severely injured in an automobile-motorcycle crash at Bishop and Flower streets Wednesday, was holding his own in the Orange county hospital at noon today.

A fractured skull, causing injuries reported to be too severe to insure recovery, is expected to cause his death at any time, doctors declared.

At noon today his pulse was reported as somewhat stronger, but his general condition is weaker, it was reported.

Shelton was injured when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Fred Davis, 27, of 202 Hathaway street, Santa Ana.

JAPAN AGREES TO DEMAND OF LEAGUE TODAY

Lampson, British minister to China, in which Sir Miles was said to have been decidedly in favor of the Chinese stand.

Authorities felt on the contrary that the United States has shown a sympathetic and intelligent understanding of Japan's position. This view was contained in Tokio's reply to the Washington note regarding the Kellogg pact, which was published today.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS GREATLY RELIEVED

GENEVA, Oct. 23.—(UP)—League of Nations members were greatly relieved today by Japan's conditional acceptance of the council's formula for compromising the Manchurian dispute.

The council's embarrassment was not ended, however, and it was feared China would block complete agreement.

Although Japan was prepared to attempt the withdrawal of her troops in three weeks, China contests the validity of Japan's claimed treaty rights in Manchuria. It was considered certain Dr. Alfred Sze would be unable to accept the resolution without consulting his government further, and that Nanking's consent was improbable.

China might ask for an option on the treaty rights, on which the league would be reluctant to commit itself. Furthermore, examination of the treaties would require months and even years.

Consequently, while modification of the draft of the council's resolution in conformity with Japan's concessions was expected at this afternoon's council meeting, the resolution probably would be accepted only by a majority vote.

As Article XI of the league covenant, under which China appealed, requires unanimity, the result will be that the resolution will merely be presented without being adopted, but having the moral force of the support of 12 powers.

have no place in our American life. We owe it to our people to see that these vicious uneconomic practices do not gain a foothold in this country. We have abundant evidence of the ruinous effects of doles and subsidies and artificial stimulants."

"The talk of another war has no place in the hearts of people anywhere. There is discussion of a naval holiday. There are moves to reduce our own navy program. If that is what our government deems wise, I can state that the steel industry will be the first to support the move.

"Some of our companies have large facilities for building navy vessels and armament, facilities which would welcome more business. But the nation comes first, and we shall welcome any measure that fosters permanent peace.

"The steps which we must take toward improvement are: A better financial structure, which is now under way; a liquidation of extravagance in business including prices, which has already taken place in most lines to an abnormal extent; a reduction in the cost of government which is borne by industry and the people; and a vigorous enterprising attitude on the part of industry."

DEATHSA WORD OF COMFORT

At times you think that your grief is as big as your strength. There is the struggling side to be brave and to keep on going to fulfill your tasks, but a will-to-do seems to have lost its power and you feel like a broken bird. Rest a bit. Keep still. Ask God to give you the strength you need. He will come to the power and will and to do, and as the days go by you will learn to say, "Because your heart is right, your hand will become strong."

PLAN TO GIVE MEN WORK ON COUNTY ROADS

Plans for providing part-time work for unemployed men of northern Orange county on Orange county roads were outlined to representatives of North Orange county cities at a meeting held in McFarland's cafe in Fullerton last night.

The proposal calls for employment two days each week of a quota of men from the various communities of the district, according to population of the cities. The chambers of commerce of the communities will act as clearing houses, those desiring work on the roads registering with the employment department.

The rate of pay will be $4 per day. It is planned to have the plan in operation within a short time.

Announcement was made that $110 per month will be available for distribution among the schools in the district as a milk fund. The money will be distributed through Parent-Teacher associations. The sum was made available through contributions of county employees to a relief fund.

DRY WORKER

William Upshaw, former Congressman from Georgia, below, an ardent anti-liquor worker, will speak at a public meeting at the Church of the Nazarene here next Sunday afternoon.

DRY CRUSADER WILL SPEAK AT CHURCH SUNDAY

"America's Greatest Battle" will be the subject of an address to be delivered by William D. Upshaw, former congressman from Georgia, outspoken champion of the Eighteenth amendment, at an open meeting Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Church of the Nazarene, Third and Bush streets, according to arrangements completed by the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the church. He is expected to give special attention to wet propaganda in connection with the recent action of the American Legion at the Detroit convention and to stand taken in favor of modification by the American Bar association.

Congressman Upshaw gained national recognition by his scathing speech in Congress in which he called upon Washington officials to "begin with yourself if you want to enforce prohibition." On his speaking tours, he has addressed more than four million students in American schools. His address is declared to be a masterpiece of wit, logic, and striking eloquence so that he is variously known as the "Georgia Whirlwind," "The Present Day Bryan," "The Lincoln of the South" and "The Fighting Georgia Congressman."

C. A. GREENLEAF MISSING SINCE OCTOBER 15TH

The city council of Santa Ana will consider an appointment to the Santa Ana City Planning commission at its regular meeting next Monday night. It was announced today by John Knox, mayor, following the reported disappearance of Cliff A. Greenleaf, well known Santa Ana automobile dealer, and a member of the commission.

Greenleaf disappeared from Santa Ana on October 15, after he is said to have left his home to go to a meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club. No trace of him has been found since that time. No report has been made to police authorities of his disappearance.

Financial worries, which according to his friends were possibly not as big as they seemed to him, may have been responsible for his disappearance, it was declared.

Greenleaf was head of the Greenleaf Motors, at 902 North Main street. Employees of the company reported they had not seen him since late Wednesday when he was at the showroom. Business men in Santa Ana reported that he was in financial difficulties and one declared that Greenleaf had stated that he didn't believe he could stay in business longer than a few days.

Finance companies, interested in the Greenleaf Motors, reported that although they held a large number of contracts, that the contracts were good in every way, and that there was nothing amiss in the accounts, or his dealings with these companies.

Repeating Channing Pollock's play, "The Fool" at the Santa Ana high school auditorium last night, young people of the First Methodist church who presented the production, scored another distinct dramatic success before a large and enthusiastic audience. The play was given for the first time by the group last week.

The play, directed by Mrs. Willis DeuFree Billups, is the first chosen by the young people for production this winter and the series is sponsored by the department of religious education of the church. Following the fine performance given by the young players last week, they were urged to repeat the play last night.

Homor Wood was in charge of the music for the interludes between acts and sang several solos. The next play has not yet been chosen, but is being eagerly anticipated by those who enjoyed the initial production.

The players have other engagements in San Diego and Los Angeles in the near future.

DISREGARD OF TRAFFIC SIGN CAUSES CRASH

Thomas Junk, of 530 West First street, was injured at 12:05 a. m. today when the car he was said to have been driving, registered to Kent Drysdale, of 2750 West First street, collided with a truck operated by M. H. Devany, of 2658 East Fifty-fifth street, Los Angeles, at First and Main streets.

Reports made to the police were to the effect that Junk, headed west on First street, failed to make a boulevard stop at Main street, crashing into the truck, which was headed south on Main street.

Junk was taken to the Orange county hospital where it was said his condition was not serious. He suffered severe cuts about the face

WOMEN TO DECIDE FATE OF J. MEYER

Attorneys for the state and for the defendant, John Meyer, 828 North Parton street, completed their arguments before a jury composed of 12 women in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court shortly before noon today and the case is expected to reach their hands early this afternoon.

Meyer is charged with sale of liquor, and was one of the group arrested by Sheriff Logan Jackson in a county wide liquor raid staged here in August. He is alleged to have sold one pint of liquor to an under cover agent for the sheriff. The trial started early yesterday morning and all of yesterday and most of today was consumed hearing evidence in the case.

DR. MACKLIN DISCUSSES POULTRY PRICE SITUATION AT GARDEN GROVE MEETING

Why the poultry co-operative association in Southern California has not been able to pay the prices offered by independent was the question that was discussed, at length, at the meeting of the poultry department of the Orange County Farm Bureau held last night in the Garden Grove High school auditorium.

Several poultrymen claimed that the independent were able to outbid the association, thus raising a question about the effectiveness of the co-operative.

Dr. Thomas Macklin, state market director, directing the discussion, pointed out that the independent associations by such practices are buying small quantities for a special market where the co-operative has to dispose of all the product to a widely scattered market. Prices are maintained at a higher general level through the experienced marketing knowledge of the co-operative, he asserted.

The discussion stimulated an airing of various phases of the marketing question and the poultrymen agreed to hold further conferences and open discussions. The meeting of the Orange county members of the Southern California Poultry Co-operative association, which is to be held November 10 at Garden Grove, was thrown open to all Orange county producers for a frank consideration of the problems.

Dr. Macklin, who was recently appointed to his office, made his first speaking engagement in Orange county at last night's meeting.

Organization Necessary
He cited examples of co-operative operations in other parts of the state and stressed the point that farmers and producers are compelled to organize if they expect to combat the exploitation of buyers. He said that there are 30 co-operative associations in the state.

The poultrymen also listened to F. R. Wilcox, extension specialist in marketing, with the University of California, who talked on the part that co-operative associations were assuming in the control of surplus. He said that the function of finding a market was just as much a productive activity as the actual creation of the product.

"The services of the state for research work, for organization of education, and for a program of education are made available to any groups interested," he stated.

Wilcox asserted that the co-operative movement was "a business institution for the permanent relief of the evils in marketing." He said that the great bulk of two billion dollars worth of goods, one-fifth of the nation's produce, was handled by co-operatives.

Surveys Condition
A survey of the conditions in the poultry business was given by W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor. He said that there would be no great increase in grain prices, that cold storage eggs were moving rapidly but that several million pounds

Deficit On Chest Being Decreased

Late contributions to the Community Chest fund for this year are gradually reducing the deficit between the goal set for this year and the amount actually raised during the campaign according to Roy Tolleson, director of the drive.

At a meeting of the "mop-up" committee yesterday afternoon workers reported new pledges totalling $1200 for the day. This, according to Tolleson, brought the total amount of pledges secured for the year up to approximately $40,000 leaving a deficit of $6000 still to be raised in order that the Chest might meet the goal set.

Workers are continuing their campaign and are hopeful of raising the entire amount before the end of the week.

UNEMPLOYED TO LAY PLANS FOR JOB CAMPAIGN

Unemployed men of Santa Ana will gather tonight at 7:30 in city hall for a discussion of methods to relieve their plight with members of the Odd Jobs committee of the Citizens Unemployment Relief committee. The meeting was called by committeemen for the purpose of working out a definite plan to provide employment during the winter months.

According to the plan being considered by the committee the jobless will canvass homes of the city seeking work that needs to be done. Each man will have a card of introduction signed by Mayor John Knox.

Citizens of Santa Ana are urged to co-operate in this campaign to the extent of providing work. In a recent statement it was pointed out that practically every home in the city could provide at least a few hours work for some needy man.

The fact that a man solicits a home for work does not mean that it is for him individually. The action is collective and all requests will be turned in to the committee and the man best fitted for the type of work required will be sent to the job. In this way citizens are assured of efficient work and at the same time are doing their share in relieving the unemployment situation.

That this campaign will be beneficial to property owners and citizens in general was indicated by a recent statement by members of the committee. The statement said:

"Now is the time to build, made additions, improvements, repairs, painting, have odd jobs done around the home. Never before has building material been priced so low. Prices for materials used in other refurbishing work is on an equal level. It is good business to take advantage of prices and improve property that, because of conditions during the past two years, has been allowed to decline. At the same time the work will provide a job for a jobless man and be of service to the community."

DAY INSURANCE SAFEST FORM OF INVESTMENT

That insurance is the safest investment was stressed last night at the meeting of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters' association, one of the speakers for the evening selected as his topic the name of a recent book on insurance, "How Old Am I Financially?" In his talk he explained how the young man of 18 years can through a systematic method of deposits secure a policy that, at retirement age, will provide him with a comfortable income for the rest of his life.

held a brief business meeting in which several committee reports were received.

Samuel McCurdy, vice president of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters' association, one of the speakers for the evening selected as his topic the name of a recent book on insurance, "How Old Am I Financially?" In his talk he explained how the young man of 18 years can through a systematic method of deposits secure a policy that, at retirement age, will provide him with a comfortable income for the rest of his life.

McCurdy said that wealth at the age of 40 or 50 is not the supreme objective of man. He said that a reserve sufficient to provide an income upon which to enjoy life after retirement should be every man's objective.

Robert Brown, president of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters' association and a "million dollar producer" spoke on the topic of the "Million Dollar Round Table Session at Pittsburgh." Brown has been named chairman for the 1932 session to be held in San Francisco. In his talk he said that the insurance business is good in spite of the economic depression and that investment insurance and annuities are the most popular forms of insurance.

Other speakers were Vern Seward, Joseph Charleville and Harold Saul, of Los Angeles.

Music during the evening was provided by D. C. Cianfoni, who played several trombone solos and James Sewell who sang two solos. Both were accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano.

ORANGE, Oct. 23.—The West Orange P.-T. A. met Wednesday afternoon in the West Orange school building with a program of unusual interest on the subject, "Character Training in Childhood." These thoughts were brought out in posters from each of the grades and one pupil from each room explained the meaning of the poster of each individual grade.

BOOK REVIEWED AT SESSION OF CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, Oct. 23.—Half of the book selected for study by members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church was reviewed at a meeting of the organization held in the home of Mrs. M. L. Smith, 427 East Maple street, yesterday afternoon, when about 40 were present.

The book selected is "The Challenge of Change," and has as its general theme that of good citizenship. Mrs. W. H. Hall took up the review from the point where it had been left by Mrs. Baker and sketched in a brief and interesting way the problems discussed in the book.

Mrs. William Wilson's group had charge of the program and Mrs. W. H. Nichols, president of the society, presided. The matter of raising the sum of $1000 which has been set for the group was discussed at length. The apportionment has been slightly lowered this year, last year it having been $1065. Last year the society raised $1400. Music included a duet by Miss Elsie Parsons and Mrs. Clara Allen. The next meeting of the society is to be held in the home of Mrs. Roy Cavett.

Sees Heavy Rains Here October 28

ORANGE, Oct. 23.—S. B. Edwards, local rancher, and weather prophet, declared today that October 28 would see the beginning of a wet period of weather for Southern California. Edwards predicted the recent wet weather and yesterday called attention to the fact that while the precipitation here had been light during the last rain, at Riverside an inch and a half of rain had fallen.

Edwards said that he had noted that the water in the Santa Ana river was now well down toward Orange county. The rancher bases his predictions on the warmth of the ocean water on the coast and prevailing air currents. He said that warm ocean currents during the summer months indicate a wet winter. Records show that the coast currents were warmer the past year than in the 56 previous years.

MERRIAM AND ROLPH SPLIT ANTICIPATED

BY HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23.—(UP)—
Diplomatic relations between Lieutenant Governor Frank P. Merriam and Governor Rolph are likely to be severed any day.

Friends of the lieutenant governor are already beating the tom-toms for his candidacy against Rolph in 1934. And the present administration is regarding Merriam's activities—particularly his work for unemployment relief—with a none too friendly eye.

The proposal of the joint legislative unemployment committee for some sort of sales tax to raise money for unemployment relief this winter is the first target of the Rolph forces. Property owners of all kinds are already over-taxed, they insist, and now would be a poor time to load on the last straw.

When Rolloff A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, returns from his tax conference at Washington, D.C., he may be expected to say a lot on this subject. Vandegrift is a tax expert, coming to his present position from the California
Taxpayers' association.

Rolph Men Appointed
One by one, Governor Rolph is gaining control of the multitude of state boards and commissions. The state civil service commission was the latest added to his list when he named Wallace Ware, Santa Rosa attorney, as member of the civil service group to succeed
David J. Reese of Ventura. Hugh
B. McKevitt, Rolph manager, is president of the body. The third member is W. A. Johnston of San Dimitas, a Younger appointee.

Congressman Joe Cralf of Los Angeles paid a visit to Sacramento this week in company with his manager, Ross G. Marshall, Los Angeles newspaperman. Meanwhile,
United States Senator Samuel M.
Shortridge invaded Cralf's ball-wick for some campaigning on his own behalf.

Plenty of fireworks is expected when two state senators start their battle for congress in one Los Angeles district. Senator Joseph L.
Pedrotti and Senator George W.
Rochester are both seeking the same congressional post. Pedrotti is author of the state's aviation law, while Rochester is known as father of the "gin marriage" act.

NAVAL OFFICERS TO BE CURBED IN TALKS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(UP)—
Secretary of Navy Adams has ordered naval officers who make public speeches on navy day this year to confine their oratory to the history of the navy.

The instructions went out Tuesday. They superseded a list of approved topics for navy officers to discuss on navy day—next Tuesday—which included such controversial subjects as building programs, treaty relations and naval economics.

Navy day falls this year in the midst of a dispute over naval expenditures in which President
Hoover has ordered a $61,000,000 reduction and the navy has intimated inability to cut so much.

Under these circumstances,
Adams acted to prevent naval officers voicing big navy sentiments.

Investors Concern Not Making Loans

No loans are made by the Investors Syndicate, the financial concern which is opening Orange county headquarters in Santa
Ana. It was stated today by
D. A. Gould, who has been appointed county manager. The syndicate which is nationally known, offers an investment savings plan and is not a finance concern in the sense that it loans money,
Gould stated.

Mexican Fined On Beer Charge

Frank Medina, Santa Ana Mexican, has been found guilty of possession of liquor in the city court and fined $100.

He is the fourth Mexican to feel the effects of Chief F. W. Howard's liquor raids this week, a total of $700 in fines being levied against offenders this week, prior to his arrest.

Officers reported they found 15 cases of beer in his home.

NEWS OF THE SCHOOLS

Julia Lathrop

Trio of Visitors

Dr. Percy Davis, superintendent of schools, George Wells and Rollo Hayes, members of the board of education, visited Lathrop last Thursday.

The administrators were unusually enthusiastic about the quality of work being done at Lathrop and highly commended Mr. Nelson, the principal, and the teachers on their executive and teaching ability.

The visitors dined in the Lathrop cafeteria and thought the service and food very good. They also thought the hall supervision by students exceptionally well executed.

—Tone Hooven.

Lectures Planned

Mary Burke King, associate editor of the Santa Ana Register, will tell Lathrop students how to read the various sections of a newspaper in the most beneficial manner in a series of lectures beginning Monday, October 26, at 8:20 a. m., in room 27.

There are vast educational possibilities in a good newspaper. No one is better fitted to point out and explain these possibilities than someone associated with a paper. Rosecoe Conklin, Register circulation manager, will provide copies of the Register for Mrs. King's program.

"Reading," says Mr. Nelson, principal, "is without doubt the most fundamental of all the tools of learning. Reading is the first necessity in acquiring any knowledge or information after we get beyond the infant stage of mouth-to-mouth gossip."

"Practically all of our reading in daily life is done silently (news-papers, books and the like), which requires a different technique than does oral reading, so much of our drill ought to be for the purpose of improving our silent reading."

—Clint Campbell.

Opera Plans

Miss Cornell states, "Human nature is a great study from the standpoint of music." Those who take part in the Lathrop opera, "The Count and the Co-ed," learn the characteristics of many people from the varieties of characters in the opera.

The cast for the 1931 opera has been selected and includes: Loe Hooven as Amy Arnold, Mary Jane Belcher as Dolly McSpadden, Marjorie Johnson as Miss Agatha Lockwood, Clinton Campbell as Dr. Cicero McSpadden, Alta Gregg as Mrs. McSpadden, Jack Hubbard as Mark Watson, Robert Huntsinger as Willie (Sleepy) Carter, Dortha Dixon as Marjorie Blackwood, Jack Filer as Dan Flanagan, Bob Bradley as Snooze Andrews. The cast has been chosen for its dramatic and vocal ability and each member is expected to co-operate in every way possible. If real co-operation and hard work is shown from the start, this opera will be given in the month of December.

—Clint Campbell.

Social Science

One might think that social science is just a study of geography and history of our own and other countries. That is not true. Social science is a very definite subject with its own aims and standards.

"Social science aims," says Miss Young, Lathrop social science department head, "to develop an appreciation for and to establish habits of conservation and thrift; to develop insight into the problems of industry, business and the standards of living; to train in the efficient use of books, indices, statistical tables, maps, references and the like as needed; to use all time economically and wisely, in the classroom and at home."

"Social studies contain some material which, indeed, needs to be practiced by systematic repetition. There is, for example, a body of location facts, some of which are used so frequently by most people that school should be responsible for their thorough mastery."

—Barbara Rowland.

Cost of Failure

"Our aim is to have no failures," remarked Miss Reid, head of the math department at Lathrop. "A failure is an extra cost to the public. Every student who fails has utilized $155 without profiting. This is an expense we are trying to do away with."

Our math teachers are doing all in their power to help those who are behind.

The classes in math are making a study of the dangers of buying on the installment plan. They are also learning how to use their money economically and wisely.

Study of Languages

In an interview with Miss Hart and Miss Kline, the Spanish and general language teachers, it was learned that the pupils of the H9 Spanish classes conducted by Miss Hart were trying to master the tenses and pronouns. They are also memorizing several stories to help pronunciation and expression.

The L9 class members are studying daily expressions such as where we live, the occupations, things sold and family words. Also they have been making a study of the names of the continents, countries and capitals.

Miss Hart says that general language lessons so far include a study of the origin of words. The 412 section has prepared a lesson based on recent history lessons. The classes have also been studying the pronunciation, spelling and meaning of difficult and every-day words.

—Bob Rice.

Junior Police

The junior police was organized by Chief Howard among the younger generation for the purpose of educating them in the methods of public control, also to have them serve as assistants to the regular officers during parades and public meetings.

In junior high the organization operates independently from the established safety committee. The only work as far as junior high is concerned is controlling traffic off school grounds during morning, noon and evening periods. The junior police are boys chosen for their good character and their proven ability in similar organizations.

Meetings are held at noon, weekly. At these times either Mr. Howard or an officer takes charge. Their presence is a help to the boys in this work.

Some of the Lathrop boys belonging to this organization are Bill Lee, Walter Limbaugh, Paul Pope, James McWaters, Matt Brown, Charles Connel and Westley Hall.

—Ruby Lundstedt.

Frances Willard

To be able to recognize a number of good pictures at sight, to describe them, to be familiar with the artists' names, pictures, subjects and style is the aim of Art Appreciation as studied in the schools today.

Joy, in line, form and color, was instinctive even in primitive man, and this fundamental love of the beautiful can be made a great uplift to the present character of everyone. Exhibit of fine art prints was on display at Frances Willard junior high school Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Assembly Meeting

The first meeting of Every Girls' club was held last Friday in the new Willard auditorium. The boys attended the first part of the assembly, which was devoted to a skit presented by several members of the cast of "Cold Man." The skit, "The Last Skit," was Harold Swerland, Bret Black and Eurgart Veriah.

The girls were led in some clever yells, followed by installation of the new officers by Mrs. Grace Lund, dean of girls. Those girls taking the oath of office were: Frances Was, vice-president; Florence Liggett, secretary; Valerie Demetriou, treasurer; Margaret Munro, recorder, and Ruth McBurney and Betty Lee, well leaders.

The girls in the audience then stood and repeated their pledge of service and loyalty to Every Girls' club. Nancy White, presided over the remainder of the meeting. The committees for the semester were announced. The Glee club sang two numbers and Charlotte Mock concluded the meeting with one of her humorous readings.

Safety Committee

The girls' safety committee of Willard is composed of five members: Florence Liggett, chairman; Margaret Munro, Valerie Demetriou, Frances Was and Nancy White. Mrs. Grace Lund, dean of girls, is the advisor. This organization is for the purpose of upholding and enforcing the rules of the school.

G. A. C. Pledges

The Girls' Athletic club of Frances Willard announces the pledging of Patti Clark, Hazel Schwann, Helen Lowe, Thelma Marks, Roberta Horton and Evelyn Richards.

Burmese Exhibit

On display in the exhibit cases of Willard's apocryphal hall are some beautiful Burmese objects of art from the personal collection of W. W. Hoy, Santa Ana engineer. Valuable pieces of colorful pottery, porcelain, and fragile statuettes are on display. Intricate designs and soft colorings are seen in the textiles. The carvings are beautiful in design and workmanship.

Joint Meeting

The second joint meeting of the board of education and the city council, in the form of an informal dinner conference, was held at the Frances E. Willard cafeteria at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, October 20.

Service Club Banquet

The Boys' Service club of Willard held its annual banquet and banquet in the new school cafeteria, Tuesday, October 13, at 6:30 p. m. Former members, who are now in high school, attended in a large body, as did former members of the Willard faculty. George Munro, high school student, and one time member of the club, was the toastmaster for the evening. The Rev. Dr. Geo.

Warner of the First Methodist church, was the principal speaker. Philip Smith is president of the organization; Albert Pickhart, secretary; Hubert Nail, treasurer, and W. P. Read, advisor. All men on the Willard faculty are honorary members of the club.

Boys' Committee

The Boys' Safety committee is composed of 25 members, chosen from the high 8, low 9, and the high 9 sections. These boys must have good scholarship, and be approved by the faculty and students. This method to enforce the rules of Willard has been used for some years and has proved very successful. Jack Wallace is chairman of the committee and Albert Pickhart, clerk. W. P. Read is faculty advisor.

Cast Chosen

The cast for the original opera, "Who's Who," to be presented in the new auditorium of the Frances Willard junior high school, has been chosen, according to Miss Esther Jean Davis, musical director. The cast includes: Jim, the leader of the boys at King's hall, Carl Kennedy; Bob, Jerry, two of the boys at King's hall, Frank Marr and Bill Hawkins; John, the janitor at King's hall, Elbert Stewart; Dan, the neighborhood policeman, Hubert Nail; Alice, the leader of the girls at Crane house, Leola Schroeder; Betty, Jean, two of the girls at Crane house, Valerie Demetriou and Janette Klatt; Annie, the maid at Crane house, Betty Lee; Mary, the cook, Jean Phillips.

Election of Officers

The home room sections at Willard organized and elected class officers for this semester. Each section has a faculty advisor. Following is a list of each class, its advisor and officers:

Low 7-1—Miss Lucy Maas, advisor; Kenneth Aiken, president; Thompson McNeal, vice-president; Alan Cooke, secretary and treasurer; May Hubbard, chairman of the program committee; Bruce Buell, reporter; Ruth Hood, girls' athletic manager, and Harold Tucker, boys' athletic manager.

LA HABRA, Oct. 23.—Mrs. J. A. Scofield entertained members of the executive board of the Methodist brotherhood with a dinner at the Scofield home Wednesday evening. Following the dinner a business meeting was held and among other questions discussed was the planning of the Brotherhood dinner for October 27, at the Social hall, when Congressman Upshaw, of Georgia, will be the speaker. His topic will be "America, the Beautiful." Members of the board present at this meeting were J. A. Scofield, president; L. E. Wiede, Isaac Nicklin, Gordon Cameron, the Rev. H. O. Simmons and C. E. Varney.

The Rev. Mr. Simmons invites all to come.

Oil Committee Increases Beach City Production

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 23.—The state oil curtailment committee has decided to increase the "allowable" oil from the Huntington Beach field. Eventually the plan is to reduce the curtailment cut by 50 percent. It is reported, but the reduction will come in succeeding allowances. The first increase gives the field 2000 barrels daily over the previous production. The field is now making about 18,000 to 20,000 barrels daily, which makes the new allowance an increase of about 10 percent for each well.

BASEBALL DOPE DISCUSSION IS KREG SCHEDULE

Baseball is the one American sport that is never out of season. When the playing season ends the "hot stove" league starts functioning and for the first half of the winter talks over performances of the season just closed and for the remainder of the winter speculates on the possibilities for the next year.

Because of this never dying interest in baseball Bert May will give the "hot stove" league something to think over tomorrow when he goes on the air from station KREG from 12:15 to 12:30 with a program listed as "The Big Leagues and Next Year in Baseball."

From 12:30 until 1 o'clock Odessa and Sunny, The Harmony Girls, will be on the air with one of their popular programs featuring popular and "torch" songs. The Texas Cowboys are expected to ride in from the range tomorrow and be prepared to help out with the Shopper's Guide program. They will present a group of songs from the range between bits of information to be given by the Shopper's Guide.

RADIO FEATURES

Howard Jones, famed coach of the University of Southern California football team, will discuss interesting high lights of the current season in an interview conducted by Lloyd E. Yoder during the Football Rally which will be heard over an NBC network to-night between 10:30 and 11:00.

Jane Addams, noted settlement worker and director of Hull House, Chicago, will speak in the second program under the auspices of the National Advisory Council on Radio in Education, to be broadcast over a coast-to-coast NBC network tomorrow between 5:30 and 6:00, Pacific time. A second speaker will be Walter R. Miles, president of the American Psychological association. His topic will be "Psychology: A Modern Science of Human Management." The program may be heard over KFI and KPSD.

BING CROSBY FEATURES TO BE BROADCAST

Because Bing Crosby is a big favorite with radio fans and because a recent "All-Bing Crosby" program sponsored by them drew many requests for a repetition of this type of entertainment The Peggy Shop is sponsoring another group of numbers by this popular entertainer during their KREG broadcast, starting at 7 o'clock tonight.

Immediately after the Peggy shop program the Firestone Service program will go on the air for 15 minutes, featuring Jerry Hall, popular Santa Ana singer and composer. Hall will sing a group of ballads, semi-classical songs and several of his own compositions.

From 7:45 until 8 o'clock there will be a program of selected recordings featuring numbers requested during the week by Santa Ana music lovers. The classic programs are becoming more and more popular with the lovers of the best in music as only the best works of the most noted composers are featured.

Another skit by "Jabbo and Lige," worth-while comedy team, will be presented between 8 and 8:30 o'clock tonight, during the "This 'n' That" all-negro program, directed by Rudy Goodwin.

SHOE ENDURANCE CONTEST ON AIR

Progress of the Shoe Endurance contest being sponsored by Serene and Fulkerson will be announced tonight over station KREG from 6:45 to 7 p. m. during the program of feature recordings being sponsored by that firm.

From 8:30 until 9 o'clock to-night Lynwood Young and Art Cannon will be on the air featuring ballads and semi-classic numbers. Young will sing a group of songs and Cannon has arranged several piano numbers as solos.

RAIN SOAKS BEAR-TROY GRIDIRON Injuries Hamper Lions For Conference Debut Here

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
A great many big league men thought that Outfielder Mel Simons would click in the majors... Donnie Bush, former manager of the White Sox, was one of them... and the chance that Bush gave Simons is one of the chief reasons why Bush is a former manager today... Comiskey was very indignant about Simons' flop... something like $25,000 and a couple of ball players had been turned over to Louisville for the young man... After Bush gave Simons every chance, which Mel booted in the grand manner, Comiskey publicly criticized the acumen of Donnie... so Bush ended his resignation to the proper sources... and Lew Fonseca became manager of the White Sox... The major leagues may see several new brother acts in the 1932 season... Otto Bluege, shortstop and brother of Ossie, will join the Reds... Otto was a sensation for the Peoria Tractors in the Three-Eye... Oscar Roetger, first baseman and brother of Walby, goes to the Athletics... Oscar was a wow for St. Paul in the recent little world series... Harwood McKain, brother of Hal, goes to the Tigers... and there are two young Ferreris who may come up to associate with brothers Wes and Rick... The Warriors, Paul and Lloyd, may be enemies next season... Gossip indicates that Paul, the older, will be traded by the Pirates... "Outfish" Smith and Jack (The Fired with determination despite the loss of three regulars—Captain Mike Santa Cruz, Hideo Higashi, and Paul Jungkeit—Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana junior college gridmen tackle Coach Frank Baker's undefeated Pasadena Bulldogs on Poly field tomorrow in what will be Santa Ana's first conference game at home.

With Pasadena slightly favored, due to Santa Ana's injuries, the two teams take the field at 2:30 p. m.
Newest of the Don injuries occurred in scrimmage when Higashi ran into Doyle Gilbert and Jack O'Mara, backfield men, and wrenched his leg. Higashi's condition undoubtedly will keep him out of tomorrow's game, Coach Cook said. Of the three injured regulars, Jungkeit has the best chance to see action. Santa Cruz is definitely out with an injured ankle, while Jungkeit, although not practicing regularly this week, has recovered somewhat from a rib injury received at Compton and may be ready.
Conkey Replaces Santa Cruz
Lucius Conkey, end, will be used at right tackle to replace Captain Santa Cruz. Taking Conkey's place at end will be George Berry, who has been out of scrimmage since the conference season began. Although not in the best of condition, Berry, it is believed, can play two quarters, after which Fred Brooks, a good pass snatcher, will be used. Solon Beal, regular, will be shifted right from left end, and Berry will play on the left side. Harry Clayton, regular, will team with Conkey at tackle.
An abundance of substitutions will be employed, with Santa Ana's left guard position receiving more than its share. It is expected that Lawrence Rossiter, former Santa Clara Frosh end, will start at this position, with Gil Kluthe, Charles Crumrine, Tom Beasley, and Bob Hafer, in the order named, ready to replace him. Kluthe has been ill but was in suit yesterday and indicated that he will be ready. Wayne Bartholomew will be at running guard for the first half, but may shift to center to replace Paul Bruce, who is slated to start.
Cook plans to start the same backfield combination that he used against Compton. Dante Sircusa will be at quarter, Ervin Watkins and Jimmie Hall at half, and Emmett Secord at full. Doyle Gilbert, quarter, may replace Sircusa, but since Gilbert is faster, Cook probably will wait until the opposition "softens."
Daneri Will Get Chance
James Daneri, fullback, has been showing outstanding ability in practices, and Cook plans to give him a chance tomorrow. In the event that Daneri goes to fullback, Secord will be shifted to quarter for the brilliant Tustinista is the best punter on the team. Don Smith will alternate with Hall at right half, Hall getting the opening call because he is the team's best blocker.
Pasadena boasts a strong backfield this season. Bob Little, quarter, is rather light but is an outstanding open-field runner. He is slated to start tomorrow. The best blocker on the team, Walter Scholl, will pair with Carroll at the half-back positions. Harris, who returned to college this fall, was a member of Pasadena's 1928 championship team. Most of Pasadena's offensive power centers around "Chuck" Cotton, who hits the line hard and is an excellent blocker.
The Bulldogs have several candidates towering above six feet. Bob McCue, star tackle who excels including Captain Ed Rogers and both on offense and defense. Two Negro players, Vernie Chambers and Lewis Peters, have been doing well. Chambers, a halfback, was an all-Foothill league quarterback at Muir Tech high school. Peters, an all-conference man, weighs 156 pounds.

SANTA ANA, BASKING IN GLARE OF SAN DIEGO TRIUMPH, RATED 2-1 CHOICE AGAINST PASADENA

Favored to win handily, perhaps by three or four touchdowns, another fine-looking Santa Ana football machine from the workshop of Coach "Tex" Oliver moves to Pasadena tomorrow afternoon for a conference contest with Coach John Thurman's Bulldogs, sometimes as strong defensively as their name. The game will be played on the Pasadena junior college field, off East Colorado street, with the kickoff scheduled at 2:30.

Prep League Critics Eye Reds, Moors

The Fullerton-Alhambra game at Fullerton is most important of tomorrow's trio of Coast Preparatory league football games. Neither Indians nor Moors have met defeat this fall. Both are championship challengers, with Alhambra opening the season rated as the team to beat for the title.
Fullerton, a rank outsider two weeks ago, now rates as a powerful contender and will be an even choice against George Hobbs' Moors, although Merritt Bush, Fullerton's crack 200-pound tackle, is supposedly out of commission with a knee injury.
Long Beach, defending champion, still feared most by Santa Ana, plays at Glendale. This one should not be too hard, for the Jackrabbits, although the Dynamiters gave Alhambra a 7-6 scare last Saturday.
Santa Ana goes to Pasadena. San Diego has a conference bye and will play Phoenix, Ariz., at San Diego.
The standings:
COAST PREPARATORY LEAGUE
Alhambra 2 0 1000
Fullerton 2 0 1000
Santa Ana 1 0 1000
Long Beach 1 1 500
Glendale 0 1 250
Pasadena 0 2 500

S. A. FOOTBALL PLAYERS OF 38 SEASONS RELIVE 'GRAND OLD DAYS' OF SPORT HERE

Recounting incidents and games of former years that have done much toward the building of football traditions of the city, old-time players of Santa Ana high school met last night at Ketter's cafe with "Tex" Oliver and his squad of about fifty players, and urged the team of '31 onward in its fight for championships.

Former players from all over the southern part of the state answered the call for the reunion sent out by the committee consisting of W. K. Hillyard as chairman, Terry Stephenson, Vic Walker, Stab Young, Wm. Spurgeon, Clarence Tedford and Eddie West. More than 160 sat down at the dinner and heard W. K. Hillyard introduce A. J. McFadden as master of ceremonies.
McFadden introduced George Wells, president of the board of education, who commented enthusiastically about Santa Ana's recent victory over San Diego. Dr. K. Hammond, principal of the school, responded. He said that the size of the old-timers was such that a team could be formed to give the present high school squad a tough battle. He said the meeting should be one of inspiration to the present team which was trying to uphold the traditions of the past.
Oliver Praises 'Old Guard'
Coach Oliver said that it was possible that the high school players of the present era were favored with more modern plays, but questioned whether the present generation could exceed the enthusiasm and fire shown by the players of former years. Captain "Toy" Blower of the present squad spoke briefly, saying that it was his hope the present squad would "go places" this year.
McFadden then called for a roll call of the teams of "forgotten men" beginning with the first football team in the records of the school—the team of 1893. "Husky" Young, Al Dresser, Sterling Price and Roy Bishop received a big hand as they got up to their feet. Bishop told of playing football on grounds where the courthouse now stands and attending the old high school which stood where the present Y. M. C. A. building is located. He said the main thing he remembered about his team was that it lost practically all of its games.

M'LEMORE PICKS YOUR SATURDAY GRID RESULTS

BY HENRY M'LEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(UP)—Brethren and sisters, I have the best news for you since the invention of the cantilever bridge! The old Herr Professor, the world's reddest-hot football prognosticator, is back on the job and ready to take a shot at tomorrow's schedule.
The old Herr Professor was suffering from the miseries last week and turned his work over to his assistant, Gottlieb Vanderwhick. Gottlieb, who established an international reputation by his uncanny predictions on croquet and volleyball, was a total loss at football. He missed five games, reducing the Herr Professors average for the season to a mere .300.
The first thing the old Herr Professor did when he came in today was to fire Gottlieb.
"Gottlieb, my boy," the Professor said, "I have obtained a position as fourth assistant shepherd on a llama ranch high in the Andes for you. You will please start for there at once."
Then the old Herr Professor went to work. Less than 10 minutes later he handed me his finished work, joined his keepers who were waiting for him and was off.
Here's his selections:
Army vs. Yale—Yale will be a sucker for the old Army game.
Southern California vs. California—California suffers a "native son" stroke.
Wisconsin vs. Pennsylvania—and the Pittsburghers are such nice boys, too.
Princeton vs. Navy—Navy's terrible but Princeton's worse.
Ohio State vs. Northwestern—Ohio State is good, but Northwestern is better.
Violent Violets
Colgate vs. New York University—The violet will be violent.
Georgia vs. Vanderbilt—There'll be no marching through this Georgia.
Chicago vs. Indiana—This won't be a Stage party.
Fordham vs. Drake—Here's one set of country boys who'll come to the big city without making good.
Texas vs. Harvard—The Longhorns will take the short end.
Texas Aggies vs. Baylor—I wouldn't give a Baylor hay for Texas as chances.
Carnegie Tech vs. Purdue—Purdue will do for me.
Holy Cross vs. Rutgers—Holy Cross will beat Jack Grossman.
Auburn vs. Florida—Eeny, Heeny, miny, mo. Auburn.
Illinois vs. Michigan—Rich man, poor man, beggar man—Michigan.
W. & J. vs. Lafayette—Double-erand jay.
Minnesota vs. Iowa—Oh Minn. That's all.

PASADENA HAS GAME EDGE ON SAINT ELEVENS

If Santa Ana beats Pasadena tomorrow the Saints will even a series of football games that began between the two high schools in the fall of 1907.
Santa Ana and Pasadena have met on the gridiron 20 times in 24 years. Pasadena has won 10, Santa Ana 9. One contest, that of 1914, ended in a tie.
The first Santa-Bulldog battle was won by Pasadena, 11-4. Ralph Noble, now vice-principal of Los Angeles HI and owner of the Wilcox golf club here, coached the Santa Anans. Clyde Whitney was captain and halfback. Cecil Ford and Edgar Vardner were other regulars. Marshall Humphrey, Verne Baker, Walter Eaton, Art Lutz, Jim and Bill Smart, Ray Caland, "Mike" Tedford, John Newcomer, Ed McFadden, Hugh Livingston and Robinson were other members of the '07 squad.
Eleven coached by "Tex" Oliver have to their credit four victories against one defeat. The 1930 troupe, paced by Al Rebohn, rolled up 34 points, the most ever made by either school.

TROJAN, CARD FROSH ELEVENS CLASH IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Hoping to keep a four-year undefeated record intact, the University of Southern California freshmen will clash with a strong Stanford frosh eleven tomorrow in the feature game at the Los Angeles Coliseum, beginning at 2:30 p. m.
Not since 1926, when the Stanford babes downed the Trojan freshmen by a 27 to 0 tally, have the Palo Altos been able to come out on the long end of the score in their games with the S. C. peagreeners. This year, however, Coach Francis Tappan's men have not fared so well against junior college and frosh competition, and with Stanford determined to break into the win column, the contest assumes an aspect of a close and hard-fought battle.
In contrast to early season weights, when the Trojane line and backfield averaged 199 and 185 pounds, respectively, the freshmen roster released today reveals that Tappan's probable starting lineup tomorrow will average 189 in the forward wall and 166 in the backfield.
The heaviest man in the line is George Lady, husky Merced youth who tips the scales at 212 pounds and occupies the right tackle position. Oliver Bardin, right guard from Salinas, weighs 195 pounds and is the next heaviest player on the line, while Stanley Smith, center from Manual Arts, carries only 175 pounds and is the lightest man in the forward wall.
A strenuous campaign of four hard games within a month has also brought down the weights of the Trojane backfield. Irvine Warburton, speedy Trojan quarter and California inter-scholastic star, weighs 165 pounds.

TO JOIN BROWNS

Allan Sotheron, for the last three years manager of the Louisville American association team, has been appointed coach for the St. Louis Browns next year. Sotheron managed the Colonels to a championship in 1929, but his team slipped badly during the past season.

NORTH THINKS MUD IS GOOD OMEN FOR U. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—(UP)—The battle is on. Football teams of California and the University of Southern California are in their war camps, each straining for a chance to annihilate the enemy in Memorial stadium at Berkeley tomorrow afternoon.
Calls to arms echoed through the state as Northern Californians pledged allegiance to the Golden Bears of California, although they are on the short end of 2 1/2 to 1 odds, and those in the South rallied to the banner of U. S. C.
The California Bears hailed a soporific gridiron today as an omen of good fortune. While the rain poured Coach "Navy" Bill Ingram huddled with "Brick" Muller, California's famous end of former years, on a plan of defense.
Word that the football field was drenched by rain, and possibly might be still further soaked by game time, failed to daunt the enthusiasm of Trojan rooters, although they recalled with chagrin the sloppy field there in 1928, when the Bears held a stronger U. S. C. team to a scoreless tie. Charges were hurled at the time that the Bears had purposely soaked the field.
A titanic tempest has been made by rivalry between North and South in California, aggravated by four events of the past year. Southern California's "Thundering Herd" trounced teams that were the pride of Northern California last fall, beating California 14 to 0 and Stanford 41 to 12. Humiliation was great for the Northerners. Then came the Notre Dame steam roller to conquer S. C. and those in the southern part of the state were stunned, and embarrassed by the glee of their neighbors. Four weeks ago little St. Mary's from Moraga valley went South and upset S. C. 13 to 7, and the North claimed the score was even.
Now the Trojans invade the northern territory, and there is a forlorn prayer here that California win by even a single point. Northern Californians are resigned to the belief that they can enter festivities after the game with a certain spirit of cheerfulness if the Bears can hold Troy to 18 points.

SAINT SUBS LOSE

Santa Ana high school's third and fourth string football players were recovering today from a 19-0 lacing administered them at Brea yesterday by Coach "Shorty" Smith's Brea-Olinda high school varsity. Harper, Stives and Ledbetter scored the Wildcat touchdowns, the first two being on runs of approximately 50 yards.

BOWLING

M. H. Case and Emil ("Cappy") Ricks, nationally known bowling experts from Phoenix, Ariz., will appear at the Bowlers' Inn here tonight in two match series of five games each against Santa Ana trundlers. Case and Ricks, 205-average men, are on a nationwide tour. Santa Ana Societa are sponsoring their local appearance and will derive 50 per cent of all gate receipts.

MISS SAULSBERRY'S 82 WINS AT GOLF

Shooting a 91, Miss Mary Saulsberry won Class A medal play for women at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday. Her handicap, 9, gave her a net 82. Second was Mrs. Osman Pixley, 100-17-83, and Mrs. C. H. Chapman, 107-24-83.
Mrs. W. F. Kistinger and Loleta Mead tied Mrs. Roy Langley and Mrs. R. W. Bales with net 80's in Class B Scotch forenoon.
Mrs. E. E. Piper, 132-55-77, won in Class C. Second was Mrs. M. N. Thompson, 148-58-90.

BULLDOGS CONCEDE SAINT GRIDDERS EDGE

PASADENA, Oct. 23.—Suffering from two defeats administered in the past two weeks, the Pasadena Jaycee lower division will be out to revenge themselves on Santa Ana Saturday afternoon at Horrell field, but will be the decided underdog. Santa Ana, with a powerful squad, is expected to win by four touchdowns.
Pasadena's weakness lies in its inadequate offense. Able to gain only by means of a flashy aerial attack, the Bulldogs have lost two games because there seems to be no power in the running attack. The San Diego game was lost mainly through lack of good reserves, but the Fullerton contest revealed a poor defense against end runs.
The Bulldogs will have Johnson and Ross at ends, two boys who are green but fairly capable. Ross is especially good at catching passes. Louie Vengoni and Bob Pyle, two big tackles, will start for Pasadena. Vengoni is the spark-plug of the team.

A Strange Situation!

Until recently, when we showed a man a fairly high priced pair of shoes, Quality was the topic of conversation. In low priced shoes it was the Small Investment.

The Case of the Missing Sandals

By Nancy Barr Mavity

CHAPTER 9

Peter Piper, a newspaper reporter who takes nothing for granted, is turned loose on a murder mystery in a colony in the hills of California. Luna, a beautiful young woman who has led a colony of mystics, is the victim. Peter had interviewed her a few hours before she was found dead. Luna had secured $20,000 from the wife of Lewis Turner, a sickly individual who had come to California in the hope of benefiting his health. The district attorney had made it clear to Peter that there was no hope of recovering Turner's savings from the clever "priestess." Peter's interview with her had confirmed him in this belief. A blind Negro of gigantic frame admitted Peter to the grounds when Luna was found murdered. Peter and

Willie Hames, another reporter, arrived ahead of the police. Luna has been stabbed and shot. The autopsy shows that the stabbing was done by a left-handed person. Luna's hands are crossed over her breasts, all signed by Earl Vincent, one of Luna's numerous admirers. A bank book discloses that Luna carried a joint account in the name of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Anthony. The police suspect that Luna's husband, Anthony, may have committed the murder because of jealousy. Peter finds an atomizer which is a disguised hypodermic needle. Also he picks up a neatly whittled bit of wood. Peter discovers that Luna's sandals, which she wore when he interviewed her, are not on her feet, nor are they in the room. On his return to the office Peter's city editor informs him that Vincent has been found.

Peter stared at the stranger's half averted profile with a mixture of astonishment and indignation. Sob sister, indeed! Jim, writer on the Herald, than he would hire a dodo. What did she think the Herald was, anyway? And why—his wrath gave way to puzzled wonder—had she wanted to pretend that she was a reporter?

She had evidently not expected to find the house guarded, and had reasons of her own for wishing to communicate with Vincent without revealing her purpose. Otherwise, she would have had no motive for lying.

Quick thinking, that, to realize that reporters were likely to visit the house, and that they were the one class of people who would be allowed to do so unchallenged. Peter found himself glancing at the sturdy little figure with something like admiration—even though she had blasphemed the gods of the Herald by calling herself a sob sister on its staff.

What did she want with Vincent? Peter's own jesting words of a few minutes before recurring to him.

"Too bad I didn't tell you I'd found Vincent and was on my way to break the news to the old man."

Could it possibly be? It was a wild chance, but whatever it was she wanted, it was something that she did not wish the police to know. And the only way to find out was to let her go into the house.

If he gave her away to the plain-clothes man, a girl with wits as quick as hers had shown themselves to be would only have to say that she was a curiosity seeker or was trying to play a joke, and drive calmly away where she came from.

Peter stepped nonchalantly forward, caught the policeman's eye, and nodded his confirmation of the young woman's identity.

"All right, run along," the words were scarcely out of the watcher's mouth before the girl had turned her back and walked briskly across the street. Peter somehow had the impression that only an alert self-control prevented her from running. She had not glanced at Peter; in fact, he doubted if she had even noticed his presence.

"Yes, she's with the Herald all right. New on the job," he affirmed mendaciously. "Well, so long—see you again, if you're stuck out here."

"Oh, I'm stuck," the plain-clothes man said resignedly. "I'd rather be where there's some excitement, but no such luck."

Peter grinned his commiseration. At the moment, he reflected, this particular street corner had offered as many chances for excitement as any one could ask, provided one knew how to look for it.

He noted the direction in which the girl's car was headed, then ambled across the street and, with a final wave of his hand toward the corner grocery store, turned Bossy down a side street, suppressing just in time an urgent desire to whistle. He drove around the block and drew up, leaving his engine running, close to the corner.

He was taking a chance, he knew, but it was a chance that had to be taken. He dared not remain parked directly in front of the house, where he could watch the girl's car and give immediate chase. Not with a girl like that!

Peter viewed his unknown adversary with the respect due her talent for mendacity. She would not submit tamely to obvious pursuit—not if she knew it. And if she did know it, she would have plenty of time to think up a story of to challenge, quite correctly, the right of a strange young man to question her without a vestige of authority to support his demand for information.

On the other hand, if she drove straight ahead instead of returning in the direction from which she had come, Peter would lose her altogether. It was a gamble, at best, but it was the best bet in sight, and Peter took it.

Half an hour later he was rewarded by the sound of an engine in low gear. It was out of sight, around the corner of the street facing him, but from the length of time before the invisible driver shifted to high, Peter judged that the car was turning around. He silently slipped his own car into gear and set with his foot on the clutch.

In another moment, the little coupe, with the girl at the wheel, passed across the street directly in front of him, and Peter, with a prayer of gratitude to the gods of luck, quietly turned the corner and followed half a block behind.

In the two hours that ensued, Peter's prayer of gratitude changed to one of supplication. Once the traffic signals turned against him, and he lost her for several blocks. Once, when they had left the city behind them, his worst fears were fulfilled, and he had to lose precious minutes replenishing Bossy's tank at a gas station.

There was nothing to do but to sit helplessly and watch the bobbing rear license plate of the girl's machine disappear around a curve. The station attendant was left with gaping mouth when Peter curtly declined to have the accumulation of dust wiped from his windshield and dashed off without waiting for his change.

It was four miles before he again caught sight of the object of his pursuit. The highway wound through the hills with curves that obscured the view ahead. But Bossy, when put to it, was capable of surprising bursts of speed, despite the rattles of her internal anatomy.

Peter, not knowing how close the car ahead might be, dared not sound his horn on the turns. He spun dizzily around the succession of curves, trusting with blind faith that any oncoming cars would keep strictly to their own side of the road.

Fortunately, there were no side roads off the highway, and his straining eyes finally picked up a speck on the lower horn of a horsehoe bend, which, on nearer approach, took on the now familiar outline of the little coupe.

The girl was driving steadily but not furiously. Not once, Peter was sure, had she looked behind. At last they turned off the highway to a side road and from this to a still narrower, boulder-strewn track which was little more than a trail.

There was no danger now that he would be distanced, but it was necessary to go slowly if he were to keep out of sight and hearing—Bossy, running in second gear, was anything but inaudible.

The track they were following, climbing ever higher into the coast range, was barely wide enough for a single car, and the road bed made no concessions whatever to the requirements of motor vehicles. Once he crossed the wide bed of a stream, jolting over the round stones of the creek bottom and splashing through water which reached the wheel caps. Here the road lost its identity altogether, and it was with some difficulty that Peter picked it up again, mounting steeply on the other side.

He dared not try to keep the car in sight—the best he could do was to keep his eyes alert for possible side lanes, but it seemed highly improbable that such a road as this should have any subsidiary offshoots. A persistent thumping gave Peter warning that Bossy's left rear tire had failed to stand the strain.

It was too late now—she would just have to bump along on the rim. It was inconceivable that they could go much farther, and to waste ten minutes in changing a tire was out of the question.

Peter blessed the road which he had hitherto regarded with a baleful eye—at least there could be no question of speed to place the limping Bossy at a disadvantage. But the tires would be torn to ribbons—and if the expedition turned out to be a wild goose chase, a fat chance there'd be of putting it on the Herald expense account!

Peter jerked the chugging Bossy around a hairpin turn and came to a halt with screaming brakes.

Ahead of him, turned sidewise squarely across the road, was the little coupe. And sitting on the running board, calmly surveying the scenery of which Peter apparently was an item too insignificant for attention, was the

Peter, who even under the most adverse conditions had learned to summarize faces quickly, noted a wide, firmly moulded mouth, a turn-up nose peppered with freckles, a square, determined chin, and wide-set eyes of a shade between blue and gray. Her short brown hair, whipped straight by the wind, was uncovered as she twirled a brown felt hat in hands that drooped idly across her knees.

The hands were small, square and brown—compact, competent hands that matched the sturdiness of her small, compact figure. The straight brown eyebrows lifted in faint surprise as she finally allowed her wandering gaze to include Peter in its general survey.

"I don't want to hurry you, but if you've quite finished looking, you'd better put a couple of rocks under your rear wheels. Otherwise you're likely to slide to glory," she remarked in even tones.

Embarrassment was an emotion to which Peter was in ordinary circumstances immune, but he felt his color heightening as, without a word, he climbed out of Bossy and obeyed her excellent advice. She had managed to make him feel like a fool at the very beginning of their encounter.

Peter, stooping over the rear wheel, grinned appreciation of her strategy. If they were to be antagonists, she was an opponent worthy of his best efforts! He grinned again as he noticed that she had no need to force him to speak first. She could afford to take the offensive.

"You're not going any farther," she announced with unruffled serenity as he rose. "What do you want?"

Peter met the direct gaze of her speculative blue-gray eyes. She came directly to the point, this young woman. Subterfuge would be wasted on her. Peter felt a stab of acute annoyance at the neatness with which she had seized for herself the position of advantage.

"Suppose I say that I am going farther," he said grimly. "What then?"

"You can't," the girl explained with a condescending patience that made Peter long for her to be a man so that he could offer physical combat. "You can't unless you knock me off the road—and I don't think your car is equal to that. Do you?"

Peter lifted both hands in a gesture of comical surrender. The girl, however, continued to regard him with grave steadiness. "Don't talk nonsense," she said severely. "I asked you a question. What do you want?"

There was nothing else for it. The only course was to stake everything on a single bold throw. If he were wrong—well, he would only have proved himself the world's prize idiot, and that wouldn't be a novel feeling, Peter reflected wryly.

"I may be mistaken," he said, watching her closely to observe the effect of his words, "but I have a wild hunch that you may be Ruth Morgan. And I want you to take me to Earl Vincent."

Peter expected a denial. He was counting on some change of expression—a tightening of the lips, a quiver of the eyelids—to give her away.

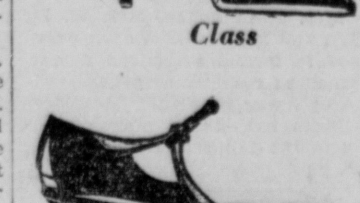

She lowered her eyes briefly to the brown felt hat which continued to twirl lightly under her steady fingers. Then her eyes lifted, again, and Peter received the one answer he was least expecting.

"Well," she said calmly, "I won't. And what do you think you can do about it?"

Uses Train,
Plane And Bus
On Trip

Airplanes and fog do not mix very well for A. J. McFadden, well known fruit grower of Santa Ana.

In endeavoring to attend a directors' meeting of the California Fruit Growers' association Wednesday in Sacramento, Mr. McFadden tried a train first.

A breakdown near Bakersfield, delayed the trip so long that he gave up the meeting and decided to fly home.

But the fog impeded travel by that mode and after blind-flying for four hours Mr. McFadden landed back in Bakersfield. After his first calm breath in several hours and a good dinner he boarded a bus, which finally landed him back in Santa Ana.

CITY LEADERS
AT RECREATION
SESSION IN L. A.

A number of Santa Ana leaders in the field of recreation today were attending a Southern California district conference of the National Recreation association, held at the Exposition community house, Los Angeles. Those present from Santa Ana included G. A. Oliver, director of physical education in city schools; L. W. Archer, assistant director, in charge of playgrounds; Mrs. Roy Beall, president of the city council of Parent-Teacher associations.

Robert Murray, social recreation expert for the national association, will give a social recreation demonstration similar to those which he has given here in an institute which ended last night. The conference will be an all day affair.

The recreation institute just closed here was highly successful according to comments heard by Oliver. Last night's session was devoted to church social demonstrations and similar projects for Parent-Teacher association social work. Not less than 150 have attended each of the evening sessions, which began Monday. Good crowds were also present at the afternoon meetings. The project was sponsored by the city schools, the playground commission, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

Police News

Charged with driving an automobile in a reckless manner, Louis A. Aubuchon, Garden Grove man, was given a ticket by Santa Ana police officers yesterday when he and Lee Eltel, of Los Angeles, were stopped on the street here by members of the shotgun squad.

Charged with non-support and wanted here on a bench warrant from the superior court, Alvin B. Johnson, 40, has been arrested in Los Angeles and returned to the Orange county jail.

OFFER REWARD
TO STOP THEFT OF AVOCADOS

Posting of a $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of each person found guilty of fruit thievery from the numerous local Calavo groves is announced here this week by E. C. Dutton, of Anaheim, Calavo Groves' field manager, following reports of some 5000 pounds of avocados being stolen from members and non-members recently, and the possibility of thievery increasing as the season progresses.

October 31 is the closing date for new grower participation in the benefits of the enlarged Calavo growers' marketing program for this record crop year, now beginning. Some 630 growers have joined the association during the last year, it is reported.

The first large shipments of this season's crop are arriving in New York, Chicago and Dallas this week, and will be followed next month by carlot shipments from the Calavo packinghouse.

ASK PARENTS TO AID SAFETY DRIVE

A plea to the parents of Santa Ana to aid the police department in protecting school children from traffic accidents at school crossings is made today by Chief of Police F. W. Howard.

In order to reduce the danger of crossing busy streets, the number of school crossings throughout the city has been reduced to a minimum, Chief Howard said. With fewer crossings police officers designated to the schools will have better opportunity to watch all children.

Parents are asked by Chief Howard to speak to their children about the school crossings, to warn them of the danger, and to endeavor to make them realize that the zones are for their safety and that they must use them.

FEVER ATTACK FATAL TO CHARLES CLARK

Typhoid fever contracted at Venice claimed the life of Charles R. Clark, 32, of Santa Ana, yesterday in the Santa Monica hospital. Clark had lived in Santa Ana most of his life and had been a student in the Santa Ana high school. Funeral services are to be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Saturday from the Harrell and Brown funeral home, Santa Ana, with the Rev. C. M. Akor officiating.

For the past eight years, Clark was in the employ of the Union Oil company working for the most part as a driller.

His mother, Mrs. Ada Clark, and one sister, Mrs. Jack M. Tichenal, 417 Harwood Place, survive him.

BUENA PARK, Oct. 23.—Matron Marie Mallott and Associate Matron Dorothy Kilgour are attending grand chapter of the Eastern Star at Coronado.

BABY
RESTLESS?

Look to this cause

When your baby fusses, tosses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regulative help will bring relaxed comfort and restful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

AFTER PLANE FELL

Catching fire in the air, a speed plane fell between the house shown here and another on Staten Island, N. Y., killing 60-year-old Mrs. Mary Tritte, who was sitting in a garden, and Peter J. Brady, New York labor leader, a passenger in the plane. James Goodwin Hall, the pilot, jumped and landed safely with his parachute. Mrs. Tritte was killed by flaming gasoline sprayed from wreckage.

ART DISPLAY AT NOTED GALLERY IS AUGMENTED

Inaugurating the fourth autumn season, the exhibitions of the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery reopened this month to the public.

The art display has been augmented by a collection of mezzotints, portraying many famous personages of eighteenth century England, including George III as the Prince of Wales, David Garrick, the actor, the daughters of Sir Thomas Frankland, Bart., William Robertson, D.D., after Sir Joshua Reynolds, Lady Beresford, after Sir Thomas Lawrence, Nathaniel Hone and Sir Thomas Lawrence himself.

This exhibit has been placed in a former sitting room of one of the upper floor suites in the art gallery. The visitor may now from the adjoining balcony command a superb view of the San Gabriel Valley. Included in the new display are specimens of Chelsea porcelain encased in a delicately carved English cabinet, and several choice pieces of Chippendale furniture.

The entrance loggia to the art gallery has been enlivened by the installation of four eighteenth century French terracotta figures, two of which symbolize "Autumn" and "Summer" and are the work of Antoine Coyzevox (1640-1730). The "Diana" (girl with dog) was done by Rene Fremin (1672-1744) and the "Amalthee" (girl with goat) is the work of Pierre Julien (1731-1804).

Arrangements for visitors are the same as in former years; cards of admission will be sent to those who address the exhibitions office of the institution at San Marino, making request for them and enclosing a stamped, addressed envelope. Officials state that individuals or groups from Santa Ana will find it advantageous to see the exhibitions in October and November before the seasonal rush of tourist begins. Cards of admission are available for week-day afternoons, except Monday, and should be reserved as soon as possible.

ORTEGA ROAD
CONSTRUCTION
NEARING END

The remaining nine miles on the Ortega highway, now being built will be completed by February 1 unless unfavorable weather conditions slow down the present rate of construction according to P. N. Hood, of the county road department, who is secretary of the joint district board which is in charge of the project.

If the financial angle can be worked out successfully the board favors surfacing the road between San Juan Hot Springs and Elsinore but it would not do this if the expense would be so great as to leave the board without enough money to build the same type of road between the hot springs and San Juan Capistrano, Hood said. A survey now being made will make a more accurate estimate possible on the latter project. Any plan for surfacing the road would need the approval of the state, as it is paying part of the cost of building the road.

The highway will be opened to traffic only after it has been surfaced, as the present graded surface would be destroyed by cars traveling over it in its present condition, it is reported. If surfacing is possible under the present financial setup it could be completed in about a year or a little more, Hood estimated.

The joint highway district, composed of Orange and Riverside counties working with the state, is working on a four year financial plan in which Orange county is responsible for four-ninths of the expense or $300,000, Riverside county two-ninths, or $150,000, and the state three-ninths, or $225,000. Ortega highway will be one of the most scenic roads in the Southland, tapping new territory unsurpassed for beauty, it is said. It will go diagonally down the mountains toward Lake Elsinore, affording a view of the valley below which was not possible on the old road through that region.

L. A. Broker Held
On Theft Charge

Wanted here on a charge of grand theft, Fred A. Mansfield, 42, of 5617 La Mirada street, Los Angeles, a real estate broker, was arrested in Los Angeles yesterday and returned to the Orange county jail last night by deputy sheriffs.

He is charged in a complaint with stealing $900 from Fred Westerhold, Anaheim man, in a stock transaction. The complaint was issued in December of 1929.

Mansfield will be arraigned before Justice Kenneth Morrison tomorrow, it was said.

Yoder Sets High
Mark With Pistol

Floyd G. Yoder, former state police officer here and now attached to the personnel department of the California Highway Patrol, is next to be the best pistol shot in the division, according to reports of the Elk Grove shoot near Sacramento Wednesday, it was learned today.

Yoder scored 195 bull's-eyes at 75 yards, but was nosed out for top honors by R. S. Hunter of Bakersfield, who scored 196 perfect shots for the distance.

Sixty out of 146 entrants in the contest scored more than 154 bull's-eyes, the reports stated.

DAMAGE SUIT ASKS
$30,000 JUDGMENT

Carl C. Jackson of Anaheim yesterday brought suit in superior court against Mayme Stubblefield and Harold Eugene Stubblefield of Fullerton, asking $30,795 damages for injuries received in an automobile accident on August 28 at Kattella road and Palm street.

According to the complaint, the defendant's car was being driven by Harold Stubblefield, a minor, at the time of the crash between the two cars.

TRANSIENTS AT
ARMY LODGINGS
TAKE BLANKETS

Some of the lodgers afforded shelter at the men's hotel of the Salvation Army in Santa Ana showed their appreciation for the kindness extended them by stealing eight new blankets and four chair covers when they left after spending a night in the hotel recently it was reported by Captain Ray D. Yuna, commander of the Santa Ana corps.

Among the 30 men provided with lodging Tuesday night, there were a few, Captain Yuna said, who decided to make permanent their free lodging by taking their bedding with them.

In the group were men of quite cosmopolitan character, including cooks, mechanics, firemen, clerks, painters, carpenters, and even an artist. Most of them had seen better days, Captain Yuna said.

The majority of the men sheltered by the Salvation Army appreciate the service they are given and are willing to do anything to repay the kindness shown, it was stated. Yuna added that it is not often that there are some who will steal the blankets with which they have been supplied while guests of the Army.

Stiff sought damages for injuries suffered in a collision between her car and one of the defendant's trucks on September 26, 1930, at the intersection of Trafalgar road and state highway No. 101. A defense of contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff had a bearing on the outcome of the case.

"White Enchantment" To Be Given for Ebell Club

Charles Wakefield Cadman and a quartet of singers will be welcomed to Santa Ana Valley Ebell society Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when "White Enchantment," a song cycle arranged by Mr. Cadman, will be presented. The text was written by Nello Richmond Eberhart.

Mr. Cadman will be piano accompanist for the group of singers, who include Margaret Messer, soprano; Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto; Otto Ploetz, tenor and Harold Kellogg, bass.

Although there is no plot or story to the cycle, sequential episodes take place with action and a stage setting. Close to the sequences may be found in the recitatives, it is explained.

In referring to "White Enchantment," and its composer, "Musical America" says, "Charles Wakefield Cadman has not written anything on a large scale in some time that can match his 'White Enchantment,' a cycle for soprano, alto, tenor and bass solo voices with piano. His previous success as a writer of quartet cycles entitles him to consideration."

The program will follow the business session at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Paul Bailey in charge. It has been announced that husbands of Ebell members are invited to be special guests at this entertainment.

Mardi Gras Scenes Are Reproduced for Jaycee Party

Scenes from a Mardi Gras were reproduced in the studio at Santa Ana Junior college, one recreation evening, when members of Alpha Rho Tau entertained with a carnival celebration honoring their pledges and a number of guests.

Balloons, serpentine and bright colored lamps made an attractive setting, with the gay costumes of the guests adding to the spirit of the occasion.

A fish pond, conducted by Miss Goldie Peal, provided amusement, as did several games and a humorous art tour under the leadership of Miss Mary Louise Wallace. Chinese bridge was played, also.

Following the supper course at which Miss Anna Gilles, club advisor, acted as hostess, informal dancing was enjoyed.

Those in charge of the affair were the Misses Goldie Peale, Elizabeth Straw, Adele Wilson and Janice Black.

Guests included the Misses Allen Lahr, Virginia Warner, Evelyn Fairley, Adair Ellis, Ethel Ellis, Helen Shaw, Irene Ross, Alberta Green, Ruth Sowder, Marjorie Woods, Marjorie Arundel, Yusuko Endo, Marion Parsons, Claire Hyman, Norma Kenny, Catherine Chapman, Mildred Condon, Theodora Frahm, Hammon and Henrietta Settle; and Messrs. Edw. Smith, Ray Archer, George Eilers, Clark, Kenneth Kingrey, Dick Lewis and Bruce Chalmers.

Club members present were: Misses Isabel Johnson, Elizabeth Straw, Harley Melian, Adele Wilson, Florine Pollock, Janice Black, Mona Everett, Goldie Peale, Marybelle Ball, Mary Louise Wallace, and Anna Gilles.

Husbands Entertained At Club Meeting In Covina

Contrary to the general rule regarding the exclusion of husbands from bridge clubs, members of the "Double L" club who have been meeting together for several years, met recently with their husbands for an evening of bridge in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stewart in Covina.

A pot-luck dinner was served at seven o'clock at small tables for four, where later the evening's competition was enjoyed. Scoring high at the close of the game were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill, with the consolation award going to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shipkey.

Guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. William Gerber of Pomona, and the following club members and their husbands were present: Messrs. and Mesdames Edwin McFadden, Joseph Daniger, Arthur Angle, Walter Hill, William Penn, George Chapman, Charles Nussbaumer, Carl Edger of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Stroschein of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deiningner of Torrance, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shipkey of Anaheim.

Venison Dinner Served At Gayly-decked Table

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. McFadden entertained with a venison dinner Wednesday evening in their home, 1108 North Main street.

The delicious menu was served by candle light at a beautifully appointed table centered with ruddy perlimmons. The tapers were black, and were held in yellow holders, the whole effect reminding of the Halloween season.

Mrs. John Henderson assisted Mrs. McFadden, and covers were marked for the Misses Mabel Miller, Margaret Heemstra, Mildred Lukens, Flora McFadden; and Messrs. Merle Boyle, Lee Hassinger, James Lukens, Leslie Boyle, Willis Sherrill, Rod Smiley, Harold Fish, Robert McFadden; Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and the host and hostess.

Informal Afternoon Enjoyed By Group

A group of Santa Ana women, who have been meeting informally for years to dine and sew, were entertained at a one o'clock luncheon this week in Mrs. Daniel F. Cook's home, 214 South Broadway.

Mrs. Cook was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Donald K. Hillyard, and covers were laid at an artistically Halloween'ed - appointed table for Mesdames Fred M. Robinson, J. B. Stewart, Amos Cox, J. E. Kellogg, D. B. Kellogg, Stella Menges, Henry Walters and W. B. Risk.

Friends Herald Return From Beach With Luncheon

Welcoming Mrs. W. C. Watkins back to White Gables, her home at 1802 North Ros street, after a summer spent in her beach home at Coast Royal, a group of her friends gathered this week in the home of Mrs. Nellie Young, 2727 North Flower street, where a reception was given for Mrs. Watkins.

During her stay at the beach, Mrs. Watkins planned many events for her friends, and one of the most recent of these was an enjoyable week-end party.

For the occasion this week, Mrs. Young decked her home with many bright-hued zinnias, which were arranged in bouquets with quantities of ferns. Luncheon was served at noon, with a clever wishing well centering the table where a typical witch and slim yellow candles were arranged with appointments suggestive of Halloween.

Afternoon hours were devoted to bridge, with Mrs. Edna Kenesella and Mrs. Laura Kesemann holding honors.

Those present, other than Mrs. Watkins, were Mesdames Nellie Young, Jean Tremble, I. A. Meacham, Laura Kesemann, Alice Bridgford, Ida Carey, Allie Cain, Edna Kenesella, Maude Swarhout, Frank Sawyer, Walter Fine, Theodore Lacy Jr., J. Fred Parsons, C. W. Houghtaling, this city, and Mrs. Frances Goepper and Mrs. Nell Hatcher of Balboa.

Mothers Make Plans For Informal Tea

An informal tea, to be held Tuesday, November 3, in the Spurgeon school, is foremost in the year's plans of the Spurgeon Mothers' club. This will be in charge of Mrs. James K. Givens and proceeds are to be used toward supplying needy school children with milk. The purchase of rugs to be used by the kindergartners and firstgraders during rest periods, and drapes for the auditorium stage also come within the plans of the club.

Announcement of the tea was made at a meeting held in the school recently, with Mrs. Charles G. Nalle presiding.

Prominent on the afternoon's program were interesting theories and methods of progressive education, propounded by Dr. Percy R. Davis, superintendent of Santa Ana schools.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Delicious Tomato Puree

Tomatoes are still sufficiently in price to use them for making puree for all the tomato soup you use all winter.

Take a crate of ripe tomatoes, wash them, nip out the stem-end and any bruised spots. Cut in quarters, add enough water to start them cooking and cook to a mush. Press through a sieve or the potato ricer. This tomato stock is seasoned with celery, parsley and green pepper. Use 1 large bunch of celery, 1 bunch of parsley, 3 large green peppers, seeds removed, and a good pinch of parsley. Run all three through the food chopper, add a little water and simmer until well done. Turn this puree into the strained tomato stock, bring to the boil and season with salt, pepper and a little cayenne. Press through a sieve or ricer again and bottle in sterile capped sterilized pint jars. For a perfect Cream of Tomato soup all you need do is to make a little cream sauce, add the hot puree, slowly, so that it does not curdle, beating briskly as the two are combined. Do not cook after the two HOT liquids are combined. In this same tomato stock you will find the basis of the popular tomato cocktail. Just add water, onion juice, seasonings, and a little fresh parsley.

One of my favorite soups is Tomato Broth. Always, when meat chicken is being boiled I make this broth. Just add the desired amount of tomato stock to the hot broth, season, and serve with toast-crackers.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Cove Oyster Salad

- 1 can cove oysters
- 1 cup finely shredded cabbage
- 1 teaspoon celery seed
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- Dressing For Salad
- 1 egg well beaten
- 1 tablespoon dry mustard
- 1 cup weak vinegar
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- Black pepper and cayenne as desired.

This salad is rather nice if served with the hot dressing and I suggest it as a garnish for a fish dinner, or as a luncheon salad.

Make the dressing first, and for that "weak vinegar," use the liquor from the can of oysters to weaken the half-cup of strong vinegar.

To the egg add the mustard, sugar, salt and two peppers. Beat well and stir into the hot vinegar, stir briskly until a smooth dressing results, then drop in the butter, take off the fire and whip briskly until butter is melted and the dressing quite fluffy.

Drain the oysters, combine them with the cup of shredded crisp cabbage, the parsley and celery seed. Pour the dressing over the salad and mix well, using two forks to lift the ingredients.

This is surely the salad for the Pleasing Plump! Its grand total, dressing and all, is just 450 calories, with portions for four.

Talking about cabbages, you'll find two grand recipes for serving cabbage in the current leaflet, SERVING WINTER VEGETABLES.

JACK HOLT IN DEEP SEA FILM STARTS TODAY

Hardened adventurer that he was, he loved his pal—so clean, honest, idealistic—more than anything else in the world. He could not bear to have him disillusioned or cheated because his standards were so high it would break him completely. When he discovers his pal is unwittingly married to a cheap, cheating woman—one with whom he had had an affair! How is he to make it right?

Such is the situation in "Fifty Fathoms Deep," the Columbia drama of deep sea adventure opening today at the Fox West Coast theater with Jack Holt, Loretta Sayers and Richard Cromwell in the leading roles. The following bit of dialogue that transpires between Jack Holt, in the role of the adventuresome deep sea diver, and Loretta Sayers, who plays the part of the deceiving wife, gives the reaction of these two when they discover each other's identity.

"You cheap little tramp! You've cheated the best kid that ever lived."

"Yea? What about yourself?" "You double-crossed him, not me. How did I know you were his wife?"

"How did I know you were his pal?" "They're all alike to you. I know your kind."

The reaction of the cheated husband is said to lead to one of the most astounding and thrilling climaxes. He has to go 50 fathoms deep into the sea to discover the real truth.

Why you need

New Volatile Vapor

—obtainable only in Winter Union Gasoline

WHEN your engine is hot—starting is easy—because the engine heat helps to vaporize the gasoline in the carburetor.

When your engine is cold but the outside temperature mildly warm, the same condition applies—the outside temperature helps to vaporize the gasoline in the carburetor.

But when the outside temperature is below 60° and your engine is cold, there is nothing to help vaporize the gasoline.

That's when you need NEW VOLATILE VAPOR—the scientific ingredient in WINTER UNION GASOLINE—that starts COLD MOTORS instantly.

No Fading!

New Volatile Vapor is self-contained in WINTER UNION until released at the carburetor jet. Thus it prevents "fading"—"vapor-lock"—"bucking" or "boiling in the carburetor"—a common fault of ordinary "winter gasolines."

No Loss of Mileage!

Dynamometer and service tests show that VOLATILE VAPOR in WINTER UNION Gasoline shows no loss of mileage.

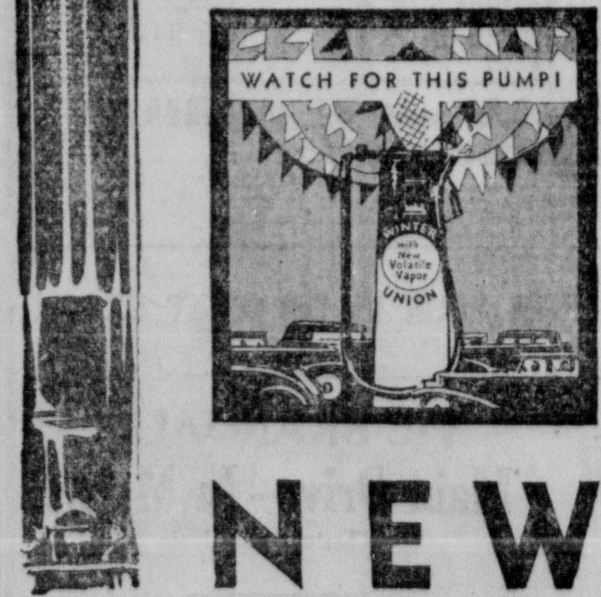

Whatever mileage you have been getting with Summer Gasoline will be delivered to you in WINTER UNION but with an added punch.

No Extra Cost!

Few companies have the expensive equipment necessary to produce a gasoline as good as WINTER UNION with its NEW VOLATILE VAPOR. Scientific use of this new refining equipment DOES increase the cost of manufacture, BUT THE RESULTS ARE WORTHY OF THE NAME UNION.

UNION thus gives you extra winter quality yet at no increase in price. You deserve the best. Get gasoline that adds New power to quicker-starting. Stop at the Blue and White UNION pumps all winter.

NEWS AND NOTES MICKEY MOUSE CLUB for BOYS AND GIRLS

"Cracked Nuts," the all laugh picture made by Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, will be the entertainment on the screen for the Fox West Coast theater's Mickey Mouse club meeting scheduled at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

With two of the funniest men on the screen as the stars, crazy lines, and crazy scenes, the picture is picked as an ideal entertainment feature for children.

WALKER'S SHOWING 'ARIZONA TERROR'

Ken Maynard, idol of western photoplay fans, will be seen at Walker's State theater beginning today, in "Arizona Terror," latest in the series of thrilling outdoor romances which the popular cowboy star has been making for Tiffany Productions, Inc.

"Tarzan," Maynard's prize palomino horse, whose uncanny movie intelligence wins added recognition in every picture in which he appears, is entrusted with a really important role in "Arizona Terror." His ability to take direction stamps him as a seasoned trooper, and, since sound pictures makes the transmission of spoken direction impossible, "Tarzan" has learned to act from signals given him by his proud owner, Ken Maynard.

Lina Baquette appears in the leading feminine role. Phil Rosen directed the picture, a Phil Goldstone production.

'Bad Company' Ends Run Today

Those who have not seen Helen Twelvetrees in her latest starring picture for RKO-Pathé, "Bad Company," will be able to see her for the last time today when the picture goes off after a run of two days.

In the supporting cast are Ricardo Cortez, John Garlick, Paul Hurst, and a number of other well known players. Tay Garnett directed.

La Habra Churches Plan Union Thanksgiving Service

REV. SIMMONS NEW PRESIDENT OF MINISTERS

LA HABRA, Oct. 23.—The first meeting of the La Habra Ministerial association was held Thursday morning in the study of the Rev. H. Simmons, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Union services for the Wednesday evening before Thanksgiving were planned. They will be held in the Four Square Gospel church. It is planned to have the combined choir of all churches sing. The speaker has not yet been definitely decided upon.

The Rev. Mr. Simmons was chosen president of this organization and the Rev. Gilbert R. Carey of the Christian church was named secretary-treasurer. Regular meetings will be held the fourth Thursday of each month except the meetings of November and December, which will be on the fourth Tuesday and Christmas this year.

The Methodist church is planning gift Sunday the Sunday before Thanksgiving and all gifts will be turned over to the welfare depot for distribution. Gifts of food will be most sought so that baskets may be made up. The Rev. Mr. Simmons hopes that all the churches in the community will join in this move.

The Ladies' aid of the Methodist church plans to serve the dinner on the evening of October 25, when the farm center will hold its meeting in the Social hall.

$180,000 BOND ELECTION SET FOR NOVEMBER

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 23.—Calling of an $180,000 bond election November 30, to provide funds for a sewage disposal plant in Arch Beach and the building of a complete treatment plant in Laguna canyon and an outfall line parallel to the present outfall at the foot of Jasmine street, was secured Wednesday night when the city council by a vote of three to two passed the ordinance of intention to second reading. The councilmen will meet October 28 to complete the ordinance on final reading. The ordinance sets November 18 as the date to hear protest.

Action by the council followed the reading of a petition which had been filed with City Clerk George W. Prior and to which were attached 131 signatures, not more than 50 having been required.

Former Mayor Frank B. Champion indicated in a protest against the location of the outfall line that he would make a battle against the proposal. He was joined in the protest vote by Councilman George Wilson. The ordinance was supported by Mayor J. E. Bishop and Councilman M. B. McMillan and C. R. Clapp, a combination that was elected in 1930 on a platform of progress with economy.

At the suggestion of City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey, the Los Angeles law firm of O'Melveny, Tuller and Myers was employed to check the proceeding step by step. In answer to Councilman Champion's protest against the outfall line, Engineer F. S. Currie, of San Bernardino, who made the plans, said the complete treatment of the sewage would insure against odors. The present plant in the central district, laid in 1924, has been a constant source of annoyance to residents of the Laguna Cliffs section.

Through an error in the office of the county auditor, the city council has learned at this late date that the city is $7000 poorer than the board supposed it was. When the new city was getting on its feet it was the practice of the council to borrow funds from the county to pay current bills. A credit of $7000 was allowed the city in July, 1930. It had been the custom of the auditor to take such an amount from the taxes collected during the fiscal year. This was not done and notification was received recently that the amount is due.

CLUB SEEKS $45,000 CITY, COUNTY FUNDS FOR HARBOR

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 23.—The Newport Harbor service club, which is undertaking a campaign to increase the number of yachts and yachtsmen making their homes in Newport Beach, will ask the board of county supervisors to appropriate $25,000 from the harbor maintenance fund to enlarge yacht anchorage by dredging. The city council will be asked to appropriate $20,000 from the harbor fund to aid by dredging the increasing of yacht anchorage.

There are 644 boats making their home in Newport by now and the committee named the previous week recommended that letters be sent to additional yachtsmen inviting them to make Newport their harbor. Discussion of yacht anchorage and harbor improvements took up the entire time of the meeting and luncheon of the service club.

"It's best of all for biscuits!"

says MRS. ALFRED CARTER of 1830 So. Los Robles, San Marino

They're fluffy light every time when you use this new blended shortening

"No more guess work with biscuits for me! They're always light as a feather when I use Parfay. And such fun to pat out, too—for the dough is spongy light! This assurance means more to me than anything else."

Hundreds of the other good California cooks are praising Parfay's flaky pastry . . . or its fluffy texture . . . or its high smoke point that makes frying such a joy.

But there's one thing upon which they all agree—that Parfay does everything perfectly!

Try a batch of Parfay biscuits yourself. See how quickly Parfay's fluffiness works into the dry ingredients—how light the dough is. Roll out a Parfay pie crust, too. Cream it—in less time than any other shortening—for a feathery light cake. Give it every test. There's one thing so unique you can't possibly miss it—that this new shortening excels in every way.

PUDDINGS

Apple Midge-Podge with Panache Sauce: 4 medium sized apples, 1/2 cup C and H menu berry sugar, 1/2 cup C and H menu butter, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup cream, 1/2 cup vanilla, 1/2 cup walnuts, 2 eggs—yolks and whites beaten separately; 3 tablespoons cream or milk; 3 tablespoons flour.

Peel, slice, and slightly cook apples on top of stove. Then place in buttered baking dish and add half the sugar, sprinkling with nutmeg and cinnamon and the lemon-rind. Beat egg yolks until thick; add the remainder of the sugar; then fold in the stiffly beaten whites, and add the milk, flour, and chopped walnuts. Pour this over the apples and bake 30 minutes in moderate oven; will form crust on top. Serve with following panache sauce:

Panache Sauce: 1 cup C and H menu brown sugar, 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 cup cream, 1/4 cup vanilla. Cream butter and add gradually the cup of brown sugar; then place in double boiler until mixture is melted. Now add slowly the cream, stirring constantly to prevent curdling; take from fire and add teaspoon vanilla.

CAKES

Devil cake: 1 cup C and H menu berry sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 2 cups flour, 2 eggs (yolks and whites beaten separately), 1/4 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder (level). 3 tablespoons chocolate dissolved in 3 tablespoons hot water or hot coffee. Fold in whites of eggs last.

Filling: 3 tablespoons chocolate or cocoa, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup C and H menu powdered sugar. Heat earthen bowl very slightly; cream the butter and cocoa; add the sugar; then the well-beaten egg; then vanilla. Beat thoroughly until smooth and light; spread over layers.

COFFEE CAKE

1 cup C and H menu berry sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1-3/4 cup milk, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup cream, 1/2 cup vanilla, 1/2 cup walnuts, 2 eggs—yolks and whites beaten separately; 1 1/4 cups flour with 1 teaspoon baking powder. Cream butter and sugar; add the egg yolks; then the flour and milk alternately. Last fold in the beaten whites and pour into buttered baking-pan. Cover with the following top:

To make the top: Cream 2 tablespoons C and H menu berry sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 tablespoon butter; then mix with 1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.

CHOCOLATE SQUARES

2 eggs well beaten, 1 cup C and H menu berry sugar, 2 sticks sweet chocolate (melted), 1/2 cup melted butter, 1/2 cup flour, measured after sifting; 1 cup walnuts; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Mix in order given. Bake in buttered tin in moderate oven 20 to 30 minutes. Cut into squares while warm. Should be chewy, rather like candy.

ICE BOX COOKIES

1 cup shortening, 2 cups C and H menu brown sugar, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup flour, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup chopped brazil nuts or almonds. Mix the ingredients in the order given, sifting all the dry ingredients together before adding. Mold in long rolls and wrap in a clean cloth. Let stand in the ice box over night. Slice thin and bake in a hot oven (about 400 degrees), until a golden brown color.

MEAT

Ham and Sweet Potato Casserole: 1 slice raw ham about an inch thick, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, mixed together; 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 3 medium sized sweet potatoes; 2 apples; milk.

"BULK,"
VITAMIN B, IRON
All in
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you suffer from ordinary constipation, you will be benefited by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Millions have found it brings relief.

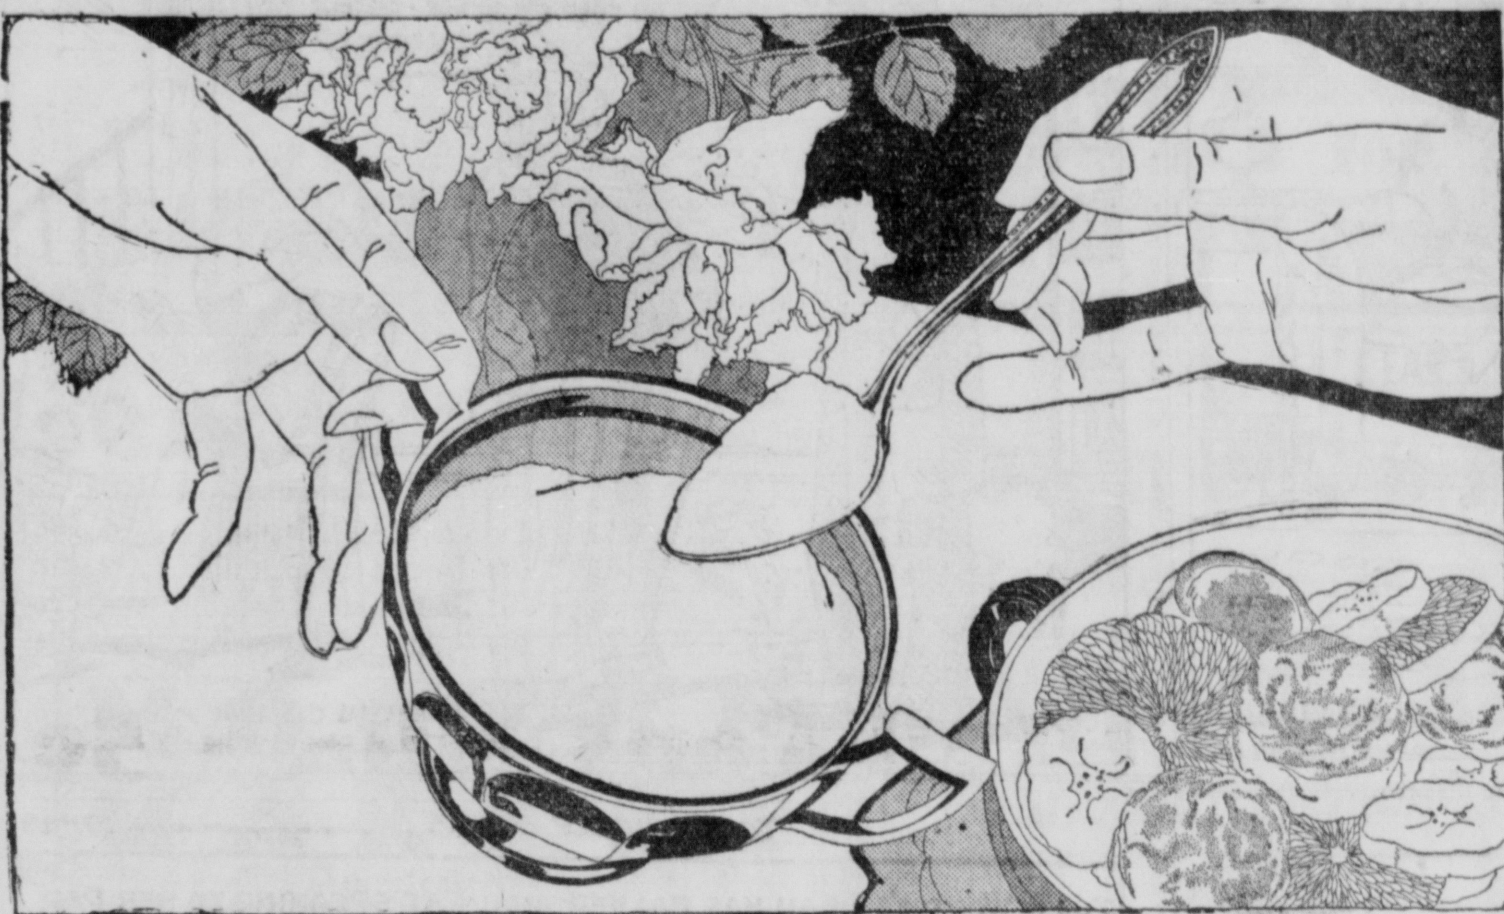

Scientific tests show ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk," Vitamin B, and iron. "Bulk" promotes elimination. Vitamin B tones the intestinal tract. Iron helps build blood.

In the package, ALL-BRAN has a shredded appearance. But within the body, it changes to a soft mass, which gently cleanses the intestines. It is much like the "bulk" in lettuce or spinach.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Try two table-spoonfuls daily for a week. ALL-BRAN is natural—far better than pills or drugs, which may cause too strenuous action.

ALL-BRAN is already cooked, flavored and krumbled—bran in its finest form. Serve as a cereal or try the delicious recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HELPS KEEP YOU FIT

*It's as lovely to look at as snowy satin
...fine-grained C and H MENU "Berry"*

To a woman, there's an aesthetic joy in looking at shimmering white satin—as only a woman knows. And to a woman, there's also an aesthetic joy in looking at white—really white, really clean—pure sugar.

And that's just what C and H MENU "Berry" Sugar is. Pure white, glowing white—whether you buy it in cloth bag marked C and H MENU "Berry" in the new C and H MENU "Berry" pouring package from the world's largest sugar refinery.

But C and H MENU "Berry" is not only a joy to look at. It's a joy to use—as many women have discovered. For this quick-dissolving granulated melts instantly on fruits and cereals, dissolves with a stir of the spoon in iced drinks—frosted chocolate, lemonade or punch.

What creamy icing! What marvelous meringue! What smooth, smooth fudge C and H MENU "Berry" makes. (Needless to say, it's pure cane sugar—every grain of it.)

No wonder so many really up-to-date women use quick-dissolving C and H MENU "Berry" day in and day out, as an all-round sugar—instead of ordinary granulated. It's simply wonderful for every menu purpose! That's why it's called MENU "Berry", of course.

Brown Sugar, Dessert Sugar, Confectioners Powdered, Crystal Tablets, or Cubelets—in fact all of the C and H MENU Sugars (as the name implies) offer wonderful opportunities for varying the menu. And of course, no sugar is purer than C and H MENU—made by the world's largest sugar refinery.

2 lb. and 5 lb. pouring packages wrapped in waxed paper to prevent caking. The staunchest, tightest sugar packages on the market.

2 lb., 5 lb., 10 lb., and 25 lb. cloth bags.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAI COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Travel Man said, "I'll just bet that some of this meat I can get. In fact, there is a place nearby where we can buy a meal. You Tinymites hang around and I will saunter over there and try and hurry up a supper that I'm certain will taste real."

It wasn't long till he returned and then the Tinymites promptly learned that everything was ready. They could sit right down to eat. Said Scouty, "Well, that sounds just right. 'Cause I have quite an appetite. Most anything they serve to me will be a lovely treat."

As they eat down the Travel Man said, "Eat as slowly as you can. It isn't right to eat too fast. 'Twill only make you ill." So they all followed his advice. "Gee," Clowny said, "this sure tastes nice, but I am going to have to quit. I know I've had my fill."

The others, too, had had enough. They used good sense and didn't stuff. "And now let's get some exercise. 'Twill do us heaps of good," said Scouty. "If we walk around some sights of interest may be found." And so they trudged along a while, as slowly as they could.

They reached a little winding street. "Oh, look whom we are going to meet," cried Copy. "It's a native girl. She has a wee pet cat. Let's walk right up and say hello and find out where she's going to go." And that's just what the Tinymites did. And each one tipped his hat.

The little girl smiled nice and sweet and then she said, "I'm glad to meet a band of little strangers. You can meet my kitty, too. And, listen, I will show you how I make the little thing meow. This kitten almost always does whatever I tell it to."

(Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

PREMIER LAVAL ARRIVES

There is no question but if Pierre Laval, French premier, expects to have a security pact with the United States, it will not be forthcoming.

In the light of the correspondence between Briand and Kellogg, which resulted in the multi-lateral treaty for peace, it would seem that France would not have indulged the hope again of negotiating such a treaty. It will be recalled in the first correspondence that culminated in the multi-lateral peace pact, the United States was asked to enter into a bi-lateral treaty with France, and the reply was that we would enter into it if the other nations joined, and after much negotiation and settling the considerations of the Locarno conference, some twenty-eight nations signed the pact.

Mr. Kellogg took the wise and proper position at that time, and certainly there is no reason why any different position should be taken now. If there is anything that is more foolish than another in treaties, the aim of which is supposed to be peace, it is special agreements to stand by particular nations under certain circumstances. So far from this assuring peace, it almost insures conflict. It places the peace of the one in the hands of the other.

This certainly would be unthinkable. It arouses jealousy on the part of those nations that are not a party to the treaty. It arouses suspicion that the agreement is entered into for a specific purpose, so that one or the other of the nations which are parties to it can be something of a "bully," with a "big brother" to come to aid in case of need.

It isn't very clear, under the present status, just why Laval is here. The only thing in common between France and the United States that does not obtain with the other nations of Europe is the fact that we both are largely creditor nations, and between us we have most of the gold.

There is one other thing which, while we are not in point of agreement, does place us in important position, which if it be considered by Laval, Hoover and Stimson at this time, and an agreement entered upon, will be very beneficial, and that is the attitude which we shall assume in the disarmament conference next February.

We are inclined to believe that if disarmament fails, it will fail either because of the attitude that France will assume, or because of the position which our own country takes. This, of course, is assuming that the Manchurian question will be settled agreeably all around, or at least without a break between Japan and the League of Nations.

The first news which comes out of Washington rather lends credence to the story of how Laval happened to come to the United States on this visit. It was not really intended on his part. A newspaper correspondent suggested it in his dispatches, without any consultation with Laval. As a courteous thing, the United States could do naught else but send the invitation for him to come, and receiving the invitation, he could not be so discourteous as to refuse. If these be the circumstances of Laval's visit, patience and sweetness should be exercised but no alarm should come through any fear of important matters transpiring at the conference.

MR. HOOVER AND MR. ROOSEVELT

It is becoming a settled conviction that the contest next year between the Democrats and Republicans will settle down to a contest between Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt.

Fearing apparently that conviction would become a certainty, former-Governor Al Smith of New York is beginning to "throw monkey-wrenches into the machinery." Mr. Smith has been the undisputed leader of New York's Democracy for a good many years. The nomination of Governor Roosevelt for president on the Democratic ticket next year would transfer the responsibility of leadership from the shoulders of Mr. Smith to those of Mr. Roosevelt.

It looks as though Mr. Smith would rather have a Republican in the White House, and he the undisputed leader of New York's Democracy, than to place in the White House a Democratic president, and he, Mr. Smith, necessarily lose a certain amount of his local prestige. There is no question that Mr. Smith could be second in that event, providing he were a real lieutenant of the present Governor. And one would almost think that second place in the nation would be better than first place in New York. But not so to a New Yorker.

The importance of New York City and New York state, in the mind of a typical New Yorker, is impossible for a person who has never lived in New York to understand. The real capital of the nation, in this man's mind, is not Washington, but New York. Of course for a brief period, it can be conceived by even a New Yorker that they might transfer the business of Tammany and New York City's politics to Washington. But if this were done, it must be done by placing in Washington, one of the recognized and real leaders of Tammany Hall. The placing of any other man there leaves Washington in second place in importance, in their judgment.

The tremendous debt incurred by the World War, was a hard blow to New York City and Tammany Hall. When New York City's debt compared favorably with that of the national government, Tammany used to point with pride to that debt, and worked to increase the deficits and to enlarge the debt. The underlying spirit of this difference and the fellow who recognizes the value of getting together, lies in provincialism.

And if it's true that dominating personalities are making money for industries, why doesn't some spaghetti-maker sign up Mussolini?

AS POLITICS MAY WORK OUT

"Bugs" Baer, in his inimitable way, rather emphasized the danger that party loyalty and regularity may have upon legislation. There will be 214 Republicans and 214 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite in the next House of Representatives. Now if party loyalty is the main virtue of a Congressman, and this is a government by political parties, as a great many of the extreme partisans would have us believe, we would have a tie between the Republicans and Democrats, and the independent, who is known as a "Farmer-Laborite," would be running the country.

After all, it is the independent who does run affairs. In any contest, whether of partisan or other nature, there are those who are for the issue, and those who are against it, and the campaign consists of endeavoring to win over by the presentation of facts and arguments those who are taking an independent position.

There never were any crooked "deals" put over by appealing to the independents. The hope of success in any campaign that is "shady" is on that loyalty which will stand by the organization, regardless. Bad men who reach office, as a rule, reach it because of the blind loyalty of partisans who are divided in the primaries with a number of good candidates, and then elect the bad man nominated on their own ticket, rather than a good man on the opposite ticket.

The politicians who are crooked, plan this out to get the bad man in office, and depend upon it just as men do upon their bank accounts. The intelligent and true use of party organizations is based upon the theory that the group, believing in certain principles, must organize to accomplish them. And it is the attainment of the principles and not the attainment of the success of the organization, which is the objective of the intelligent voter.

The doctrine that the organization, and not the principle for which it contends, is the object of true party loyalty, which is subversive of good government. Sometimes the finest and most loyal work which can be done for the party, is to defeat its candidate, so as to serve notice upon the leaders that they cannot depend upon a false party loyalty to saddle upon the people unfit men or measures.

Labor is neutral, a speaker says. He's right. Labor doesn't care who ends the depression.

AN HONORABLE GOAT

Mahatma Gandhi brought his goat from India to London. It received first prize in the England Dairy Show yesterday.

And by the way, goats have gone up in price since Gandhi landed in England. As far as we know, it is the only British stock that has shown "bull" tendencies.

Drunken Motorists Escape Too

Lightly

The San Bernardino Sun

Failure of the courts and law enforcement officers to deal severely with the drunken driver has created a distinct menace to life on California highways. The number of intoxicated drivers is increasing. We read:

Records of the state highway patrol show that 1,481 traffic accidents involving death or injury were caused by drunken drivers or drunken pedestrians during the first seven months of the year.

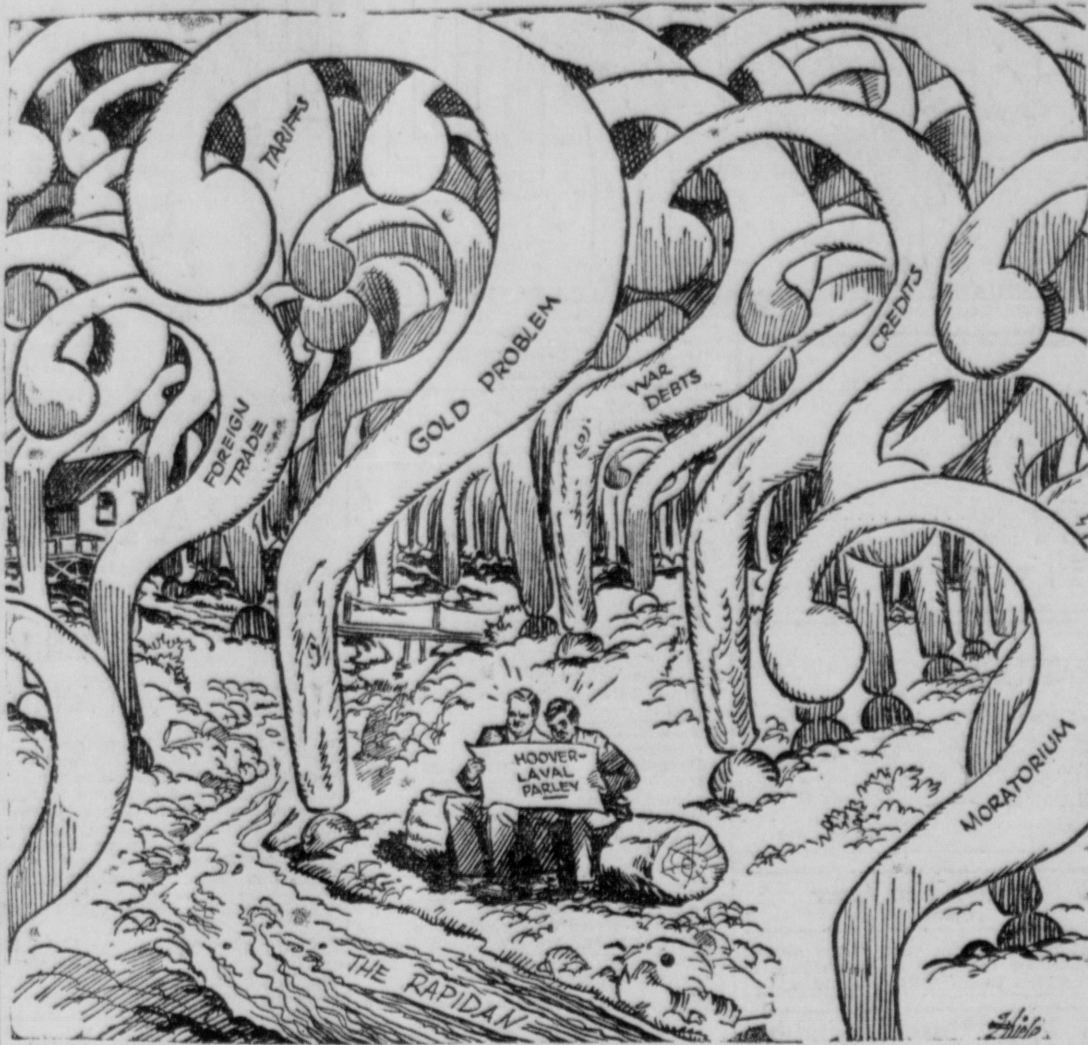

Of these accidents 123 resulted in deaths. The other 1,348 ranged from serious accidents that left their victims crippled for life to those of a minor nature.

Of the drivers involved, 1,233 were intoxicated. Yet seldom indeed is the intoxicated motorist sentenced to the penitentiary, as the law provides. Without the statistics available, we wager that there are fewer prisoners in San Quentin and Folsom for driving while intoxicated than for any other common crime. In most instances the intoxicated motorist is sent to the prison camp, if jailed at all. Otherwise he is permitted to pay a nominal fine and is required to surrender his operator's license. A more shame for punishment when the gravity of the offense is considered.

The drunken driver will continue to be a menace on California's highways until officers discontinue the too frequent practice of filling reckless driving charges against motorists who are intoxicated and until the courts impose prison sentences on the guilty. The motor patrol's figures are appalling when one considers that not all of the drunken drivers are actually arrested. Despite the patrol of the highways that the state maintains, not all, or perhaps not half, of the drunken motorists are taken into custody.

The enforcement of the law is not a particularly difficult matter. Competent testimony by physicians can be obtained to substantiate a charge of drunkenness. Officers, juries, and judges recognize the menace of the drunken driver. Why not a penalty of sufficient severity to eliminate this, a serious menace to life?

More Truth Than Poetry

THE CHICKADEE

The robin and the oriole
Have hurried south again;
No more we hear that vibrant soul,
The always joyous wren.
The blue bird tarried till the fall
When first the north wind stirred,
But now his little happy call
No more is to be heard.

But from the margin of the sea
To hilltops far away
We hear the dauntless chickadee
Through every frosty day.
Proclaiming with a dauntless zest
That all the winter long
No gales can chill his tiny breast,
No snows can quench his song.

I know not where he hides away
To shelter from the cold,
I only know at break of day
His voice is loud and bold,
Announcing that though timid fowl
To southern lands may roam
He'll stand beside the jay and owl
And never stir from home.

And those who fear the wintertime
And huddle away like bees,
Or shudder when a frosty rime
Is on the forest trees,
Perhaps will not be so afraid
Of winter's bitter blight
When on the hill or from the glade
They hear that cheerful sprite.

Uncommon Sense

BY JOHN BLAKE

THE HAPPINESS HUNT

Life is a happiness hunt.
"The pursuit of happiness" is man's chief end and aim, according to most people.

But there is a wide difference in what constitutes happiness. Recently, on both sides of the ocean, a great many gentlemen have been unhappy because they had to lay up their yachts for the summer on account of reduced incomes.

It is probably that they would not have got much happiness out of the yachts themselves.

What constituted happiness with them was the impression these palatial craft made on their friends, and incidentally on their enemies.

Outside my window as I write in a little Maine fishing village I can see men rowing two boats away from a fishing schooner, and to each boat is attached the end of a seine. Little corks support this net, which extends down into the water six feet, perhaps more. Presently they will join the two ends around a school of mackerel. A "purse line" will be pulled, which will draw it together at the bottom. Then the schooner will be worked up alongside, and from the net the fish will be dipped.

Through glasses I can see the smiles on the faces of the men in the little boats, and on those who stand on the deck of the schooner.

These smiles indicate that there is a big catch in which the men will all have shares.

The little silver flakes I see within the net are the mackerel leaping in a vain effort to get out.

They are not so happy.

A curious thing, this happiness, of which every person has his own idea.

Some men can find it in merely looking at piles of gold they have made, or at securities that represent gold.

Others achieve it by getting their golf scores down under ninety.

And still others are happy only when they are doing something that will decrease the misery and distress in the world, and thereby increase the happiness of other people.

I have heard many definitions of happiness, but the one that strikes me the best is this: "Happiness consist in doing the work you would rather do than anything else in the world, and making enough out of it to clothe, house and feed yourself."

That, I believe, is real happiness.

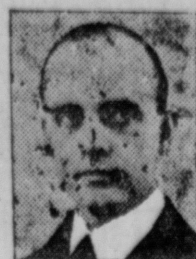

Most of the prizes we think are happiness turn to dust in our grasp when they are ours, and we live to regret the years we spent seeking them.

If you have a definition of your own, send it to me. Perhaps other readers will agree with you.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

REFORMERS AND REACTIONARIES

The depression has produced more significant results in the mind of the reactionary than in the mind of the reformer.

The impact of drastic industrial dislocation has broken down the socio-economic dogmatism of conservative captains of American industrialism more than it has shaken the inherited pattern and patterns of politico-social liberalism.

Much of contemporary liberalism as I have said before in these articles, is still lingering in the latter half of the nineteenth century, speaking the language of a generation and an order of life that are gone forever, whether their having gone is a matter to mourn or to make merry over.

But it is a chastened industrial mind that faces the future!

The erstwhile reactionary is learning.

The erstwhile reformer is remembering.

The reactionary has not hit the sawdust trail and been converted to the reform movement.

He has simply been forced to see, as I pointed out the other day, that his whole industrial system will collapse unless he makes its service to the masses its first aim.

Self-interest is spurring him to a socially minded reconsideration of the whole industrial order.

As part of his quest of profits, he knows at last that he must put his ingenuity, not only to the technical problems of production and marketing, but to the social problem of making the masses prosperous and secure.

A poverty stricken consumer makes a poor customer.

This gives liberalism its historic hour of opportunity.

For the first time in history, power is being forced by necessity to a willingness to follow liberal leadership.

It will be interesting to watch whether liberalism lives up to its opportunity.

Liberalism will have to effect one basic change in its philosophy unless it wants to see the erstwhile reactionaries outstrip it in the business of real reform. I shall discuss this imperatively necessary change in liberalism tomorrow, when I try to state what will happen if the reactionary goes on learning and the reformer goes on remembering only.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

HELPLESS PARENTS

It was luncheon hour in a crowded tea room. Mother entered leading Beatrice by the hand. The shopping trip had been a trying experience for both and the thought of a comfortable chair and something to eat and drink was grateful.

"Now then, Trixie, take off your hat and put in on the chair. Your head is so warm. And—" "I'm not going to take it off. I want ice cream."

"In a minute. Take off your hat. Now be a good child or I'll never take you out again. All right. All right. Keep it on if you want to. See if I care. No. Before you get any ice cream you have to eat your chop and those lovely peas I ordered for you."

"I won't eat them. I told you I wanted ice cream."

"I'll never bring you out again if you behave like this. Now listen to me. Sit up and behave. All right. Here comes the waiter. He'll throw you into the back yard and you'll have to stay there until I finish my lunch and serve you right."

By this time Beatrice was going strong. She took off her hat and threw it on the floor. Then she stamped on it. Then she threw herself on the floor and kicked and howled so that the people in the place stood up to see what ailed her.

"I can't do a thing with the child," said her mother, helplessly. "You'd be surprised to see what you could do if you wanted to. Shall I pick her up and attend to her?" asked the sturdy looking woman at the next table. "It would give me pleasure, I assure you."

Mother gave her a cold look, dragged Beatrice up by one arm, and hauled her out of the room. As she went she said to left and right, "I can't do a thing with the child." Everybody believed her, at that.

The fact that a mother would say in her child's hearing, "I can't do a thing with this child," tells its own story. Anybody who knew the first thing about children would not make such a statement. The child is striving for power. It delights him to know that he can make an adult obey his whims. He enjoys making the older person perform. Enjoys hearing him and seeing him protest and yield. There is no greater tyrant than the child.
